299 GRADUATE CANDIDATES IN HARDING LIST

21 Less Than Last Year's Total; Examinations Start.

Names of 299 Harding High school seniors who are candidates for graduation on Friday night, May 29, were announced today by Supt. E. E. Holt and Principal O. H. P. Snyder.

Senior examinations began today and will be continued on Monday.

Out of the examinations may result in a scant few of the candidates failing to meet requirements for graduation.

While the estimated graduation figure is under last year's actual list of graduates, it is considerably over the 243 of the class of '37, one of the smallest classes in the last 10 years.

High Mark in 1939

The largest class to date was 355 in '39 and up to that time the class of '36, with 305, was the largest. In 1938 the number of graduates totaled 276 and in 1940 there were 311 in the class.

Superintendent Holt said that while the number of candidates this year is under last year's the same condition is true generally in school throughout the country and that there is evidence in elementary school enrollments that in the next few years there will be a gradual increase in high school enrollments.

The slump this year, he said, probably is due to two factors: The "catching up" process from lower elementary enrollments 12 years ago and the fact that far more young people are getting working certificates and going into defense work.

The class of '42 numbered 618 in September of 1931 in the second grade, according to records compiled by the superintendent. The September enrollment in succeeding years follows: third grade, 616; fourth, 619; fifth, 633; sixth, 612; seventh, 573; eighth, 507; freshmen, 523; sophomore, 526; junior, 442; senior, 347.

While the list of candidates for graduation lists 299 seniors, the senior class roll for the last six weeks numbers 321. The difference in figures is due to the fact that most of the 22 are students listed as seniors but still requiring a unit of credit for graduation.

Junior Class Decreases

This year the junior class lost 23 students during the year, dropping from 396 last September to 365 for the last six weeks. Most of the 33 gave up schooling to go to work, the superintendent said. The first grade enrollment in September of 1932, when the present junior class started its public school education, was 601.

The general course has the largest group of candidates this year, 182, and the commercial course is second with 56. In the college preparatory course there are 38, in the vocational course, 20, and in the home economics course, three.

Senior social activities will begin tonight with the annual junior-senior prom at the Hy-Way Ballarena.

Sunday at 3 p. m. the senior sermon service will be conducted in Epworth Methodist church, preceded by a half-hour program of music.

Activities next week include class day exercises Thursday afternoon, senior breakfast Friday morning at the Marion Country club, commencement exercises Friday night at the Chautauqua pavilion, and the senior dance at

O.W.U. Coach's Son Is Missing at Corregidor

DELAWARE, O., May 22 — Corp. Jack Gauthier, who was serving with United States forces on Corregidor, is listed as missing according to notice received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Gauthier of Delaware, in response to inquiries made to the war department. His father is athletic director and football coach at Ohio Wesleyan university.

The communication states that his name does not appear on casualty lists but stated that lists for the period immediately preceding the surrender of the fortress have not been received.

Eventful War Plant Visit Is Made by Homesick Pony

Animal Drags Along Heavy Hitching Block, Stops Two Trains To Visit Old Home.

Jim Dandy is the first and probably the last living creature to enter the closely-guarded Scioto Ordnance Plant reservation without a pass.

He is a 30-year-old pony who was among hundreds of animals to be moved from the plant area this spring when the U. S. government began construction of the ordnance plant.

Yesterday, apparently overcome by homesickness, the aged animal which had spent most of its 30 years on a farm on the Likens road, made an eventful trip to the vicinity of its old home.

While making the return the colt, dragging a 40-pound concrete block to which he had been tied, forced two Pennsylvania freight trains to stop, guards told members of the H. C. Fremont family, Jimmy's present owners.

When Jimmy entered the plant grounds, although not suspected of fifth column activity or of sabotage, he was captured by a trio of brawny guards who corraled him into a barn.

Jimmy, as he is affectionately known by eight-year-old Mac Fremont, became Mac's property when the Paul Miller family gave him the animal last Christmas.

Until recently when construction began at the plant site the animal had been pastured on the Miller farm. The family moved to Springfield earlier this spring.

Today, Jimmy was to be placed in his regular grazing plot inside the Crystal Lake park grounds, but there'll be no more trips back to his former home. The Fremont family plans to anchor him to a tree from now on.

Ordnance Plant Payroll Figure Continues To Rise

Employment and payroll figures show a rapidly expanding schedule of operations at the Scioto Ordnance Plant construction project.

The payroll for the week ended May 15 was about $125,000, and was shared in by approximately 2,300 workers.

More news about Scioto Ordnance Plant on Page 7.

These figures are exclusive of the payrolls for the army personnel and the staff of the United States Rubber Co. which will operate the plant. The figures include employes of architect-engineer firm and the construction company.

WAR PLANT RULES ON CEMETERY VISITS

Passes To Be Issued for Use on May 30, Other Holidays.

Scioto Ordnance Plant officials today announced arrangements by which relatives of persons buried in Likens cemetery may visit the graves on Memorial day and at other fixed times.

The text of the announcement follows:

"Relatives of persons buried in the Likens Cemetery who desire passes to visit the graves on Decoration day can make application by mail to the United States Rubber Co., Scioto Ordnance Plant, Marion, O. Upon receipt of such an application a form will be sent to the applicant. This form will be filled in by the applicant and returned to the United States Rubber Co., Scioto Ordnance Plant, Marion, O. When these applications are approved, passes will be mailed back to the applicants.

"Those persons who received passes to visit the cemetery will come to the intersection of the Likens road and Route 4. They will be met by a patrolman stationed just east of the Pennsylvania railroad track on the Likens road. A caravan will be formed every hour on the hour and escorted to the cemetery. This procedure will first be in effect on Decoration Day, May 30, 1942, between the hours of 8 a.

SCHOOL CHOIR HEARD BY 625

A Cappella Singers Make Debut in New Robes at Benefit Concert.

By HALLIE HOUCK

One of the music treats of the year, doubly pleasurable because it was given by nearly 70 young people, was the Harding High school a cappella choir concert last night in the Thomas A. Edison Junior High school auditorium.

An estimated 625 persons heard the choir program sponsored by the Marion Kiwanis club to assist in paying for nearly $500 worth of new choir robes.

Within a day or two a financial report will be made, Harold Nussbaum, chairman of the Kiwanis club school committee, said today. Final reports of the ticket sale were expected today from choir and club members.

Worn for the first time in a public concert, the maroon poplin vestments with white satin stoles embroidered with the Harding "H" created an altogether new atmosphere in the choir's presentation.

As John Rea, the president, said in thanking the Kiwanis club and the public for the generous support of the concert, "We do appreciate these robes, they seem to add something to our singing." He added, "sometimes it needs it."

Thanks Club

L. G. Jones, public school music supervisor who organized the choir in 1937, and has developed it painstakingly, expressed his thanks to the club, especially to Harold Nussbaum, chairman of the club school committee directly concerned with the benefit, and the committee. Mr. Jones said: "We do appreciate your making it possible for us to wear these robes and keep them for ourselves. We are indeed grateful —and we do appreciate your presence here and your fine contribution." The others on the club committee are J. C. Woods, Warren Wise, D. N. Bohyer and Dr. S. M. Ingmire of Epworth Methodist church.

A surprise for the director came at the end of the second group of numbers when Rea, a senior, stepped to the front of the stage and presented him a gift, saying: "Speaking for every member of the choir, we have considered it a privilege to work under you for the last two years. You may think we won't be with

RAF AIR RAIDS STRIKE TERROR IN NAZI HEARTS

Bombs Lower Morale and War Production Falls, Lochner Relates.

One of Germany's most closely guarded secrets of the war is the effect of RAF raids, Louis P. Lochner, who was chief of the Berlin bureau of The Associated Press and now has reached neutral Portugal after five months of internment, here partly lifts the veil.

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

LISBON, May 22—Air raids increasingly are striking terror into the hearts of German civilians, lowering their morale and cutting down war production.

This may be said despite the fact that on no other factor of the war, perhaps, is it more difficult to obtain authentic information than on the results of RAF bombings.

There is an iron-clad rule in Germany that bombing repairs take precedence over all others; as a result, in an incredibly short time bombed districts are made to appear normal, at least outwardly.

A visitor in a bombed section thus, on the first morning, will find areas roped off so he cannot determine the extent of damage at first hand; by the second morning after a raid he may be able to pass by without noticing much of anything untoward. The police will see to it that he does not trespass on damaged premises.

When large factories are hit, propaganda ministry officials may even conduct groups of foreign journalists on tours in an effort to prove that nothing of moment has occurred.

But such plants may be composed of many buildings. It is easy to take a correspondent over a large area and show him many undamaged buildings.

Seldom Admit Vital Loss

Almost never do the German war communiques admit that the war effort has been disrupted by bombings.

Every German knows that Muenster was bombed with frightful results late last summer, but only those having relatives and friends there are aware that whole blocks were razed.

Kiel, Hamburg, Bremen, Luebeck, and Rostok figured in war communiques because the damage there was so great it could not be concealed.

Once the authorities decide to admit a raid, propagandists under Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels get busy to assert that virtually only cultural objects which should be

STAMP, BOND SALES SET FOR TWO DAYS

Women selling war stamps and bonds will be in 16 Marion stores and sales rooms until 9 tonight and from 10 a. m. Saturday until closing time.

In addition to selling bonds, the women will have pledge books on hand for the accommodation of Marion residents missed in the citywide war bond pledge campaign which began May 8.

This week-end marks the third time the sale of bonds and stamps has been pushed through efforts of the women's division of the Marion county war bond and stamp committee, in cooperation with the retail group of the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Maud Gorham is head of the women's division and Earl T. Smart is chairman of the retail group.

The saleswomen are from church organizations, the King's Daughters, W. C. T. U., lodges, patriotic societies, the Marion county Federation of Women's clubs, and the Greek letter social sororities.

Stores and salesrooms in which they will be offering stamps and bonds tonight and Saturday are the S. S. Kresge Co. five and ten, the Big Bear, Kroger Grocery & Baking Co., H. Schaffner Co., Smart & Waddell, Ohio Fuel Gas Co., Uhler's, Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., Frank Bros. Co. downtown, Rexall, Henney & Cooper, Nobil's, Sears Roebuck & Co., Montgomery Ward & Co., H. O. Crawbaugh and Marion-Reserve Power Co.

"V" FLEET BUTTON

Introduced by President Roosevelt on the eve of Maritime Day, the Victory Fleet button, shown on his coat lapel, becomes an official badge of more than 1,500,000 shipyard and factory workers who are helping build vitally-needed cargo ships. The badge features a silver eagle perched on a blue anchor against a red background.

Buddy Poppy Day Sale To Start at 7 A. M. Tomorrow

"To serve the soldier of the present war—to help the soldier of past wars—and to honor those who have lost their lives in the service of their country—buy a Buddy Poppy on Saturday, is the request of Veterans Post No. 3313, Veterans of Foreign Wars, sponsors of the annual Buddy Poppy Day.

Mrs. Wanda Hurley, of the Women's auxiliary to the post, is poppy chairman, and the flowers will be distributed by women of the auxiliary and members of their families and friends. The women will work in shifts from 7 a. m. until the poppies are disposed of, Mrs. Hurley states. All sellers are to report at the courthouse for the distribution of the flowers and lunch will be served at noon at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall at 110½ South Main street. Awards will be given to children receiving the largest amount of money. This year the members hope to sell 4,000 of the flowers which are made by disabled veterans in hospitals throughout the country.

Captains are Mrs. Lucille Edington, whose team will work from 7 to 9 a. m., Mrs. Esther Ireland, 9 to 11 a. m. and Mrs. Vena Miller, 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. Any person wishing to help and

Marion's Canteen Serves 600 Men on Troop Train

Women at the canteen recently opened at the Union station had their largest assignment to date Wednesday when they served snacks to some 600 service men who stopped over for a short time. Starting less than two weeks ago, the workers have provided refreshments for a large number of men passing through the city each day.

Mrs. Paul Bachman and her team were on duty for the distribution of the refreshments, Wednesday. The men were served candy bars, oranges, bananas, popcorn and cigarets. The stock of magazines was depleted entirely, Mrs. Eugene Willey, head of the workers, said today.

The baskets containing the refreshments were taken through the coaches by the soldiers and when they were emptied were refilled by the canteen workers.

Appreciate Gifts

The gusto with which the men received the refreshments was a hearty endorsement of their appreciation, and the place was noisy with "thank you's." An officer, who officially thanked the women in behalf of the men, said that Marion was the first city in a journey of several days where the men had been greeted by any group or organization. He assured the women that Marion would have a warm spot in the hearts of the men. As for himself, well it made him like Marion so well that when the war is over, he might come here to live.

Magazines and playing cards are in great demand and the canteen workers will welcome any contributions of these articles.

Academy of Medicine Urges Courthouse Cleanup Project

Asks Commissioners To Remove Trees, Flagstones and South Steps and Clean Building.

A five-point program for cleaning and improving around the courthouse, including removal of the sycamore trees, was submitted to the county commissioners yesterday afternoon by representatives of the Marion County Academy of Medicine and the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Academy.

Although the commissioners expressed their approval of the purpose of the recommendations, they referred the delegation to the Marion county board of health for initial action in the matter.

Speaking for the commissioners, Urban F. Zachman said he felt it rested with county health officials to decide whether the trees should be removed as a step toward more sanitary conditions around the courthouse.

Cites Past Protests

He said it had been the intention of the commissioners to remove the trees about a year ago but that such a flood of letters and petitions in protest were received that the plan was dropped. "About 65 or 70 per cent of the people in Marion apparently were against removing the trees," Mr. Zachman said.

Dr. H. K. Mouser, one of the representatives of the Marion County Academy of Medicine, asked if the commissioners proposed to allow an old sentiment to overrule good judgment in the sanitation problem which requires immediate attention.

In reply, Mr. Zachman said the commissioners are delegated to work for the people of the county and that they cannot take it upon their own authority to disregard public sentiment. "However," he said, "if the county health department authorizes the removal of those trees in the interest of sanitation, out they'll come."

Dr. Mouser said if the next logical step was to contact the health board, that step would certainly be taken.

Calls Trees Nuisance

Dr. J. G. McNamara, another representative of the Academy, said the trees are a nuisance and should be declared such.

It was suggested that perhaps trimming the trees might help solve the problem, but the commissioners said that had been tried in the past but had not proved very satisfactory in keeping the birds away.

The five-point program submitted by the delegation was as follows: (1) remove the trees; (2) remove the flagstones on the esplanade and landscape the uncovered ground; (3) clean the exterior of the building; (4) remove the south steps and (5) render the courthouse toilets more hygenic, conveniently arranged and modernized.

The proposal was prefaced with the following sentence: "Due to the apparent and real unhygenic conditions of the courthouse and the surrounding esplanade, the Marion County Academy of Medicine recommends:"

Discusses Cleaning Building

The commissioners, who concurred with the delegation in the other four points, said they believe cleaning of the outside of the courthouse would be the greatest expense of the whole program. They pointed out, however, that some money for the project could be secured from the sale of the flagstone.

In presenting their program, members of the delegation said they felt it was a shame for Marion's courthouse to present so unattractive an appearance when it could be made into as attractive a spot as any county maintains.

Those in the delegation were Mrs. J. W. Jolley, Mrs. M. M. Weinbaum, Dr. C. L. Baker of Kirkpatrick, Dr. J. G. McNamara and Dr. H. K. Stauser.

HARDING WINS IN TOURNEY OPENER

Marion Harding High school's baseball team advanced to the semi-finals in the state Class A baseball tournament as a result of its 5-3 victory over Middletown in an opening-round game this morning on the Ohio State university freshman diamond.

Don Kay was on the mound for Harding.

Harding will play Greenfield tomorrow morning. Greenfield waded to the semi-finals as a result of its 3-2 win over Louisville.

In the Class B games this morning Reading smothered Catawba 12-1 and Vaughnsville shut out The Plains 4-0.

Complete details of the state baseball tournament appears on today's sport page.

Carelessness Blamed in Normandie Disaster

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 22 — The senate naval committee has prepared a tentative report holding confusion of command partly responsible for the Normandie fire and recommending creation of an office of inspector general of the navy to prevent future mixups.

Carelessness, poor supervision and lack of precautions also contributed to the fire and capsizing of the Normandie, said the report which is awaiting committee aproval. It declared that while sabotage played no part in the incident, there was a lack of adequate safeguards against subversive activity.

The navy disclosed last night that preliminary salvage work had been started on the Normandie, which was been converted into the troopship LaFayette when it burned and turned over Feb. 9. It will be at least a year before the vessel is raised.

WOMAN DIES AFTER MISHAP

Miss Nellie Floy Gast Stricken Three Days After Auto Collision.

Injured Tuesday night in an automobile collision at North State and East Fairground streets, Miss Nellie Floy Gast, 46, of 565 Park street, died today at 4:10 a. m. in City hospital.

Death was due to traumatic pneumonia and internal injuries, the attending physician said.

After the accident, which occurred a short distance from her home, Miss Gast walked to her home. Attempting to keep her parents from worrying she prepared to go to bed. When she fainted a physician was called and following his examination she was moved to the hospital for treatment.

On Way To See Friend

Miss Gast was on her way to visit a friend when the accident occurred.

Until recently she was employed as a laundress at the Marion County Children's home. She gave up the work to be at home with her parents and in recent weeks had been employed at the Anthony Laundry Co.

A resident of Marion most of her life, Miss Gast was born in Richwood on Aug. 5, 1895 to Frank Gast, a native of Richwood, and Mahala Rish Gast, a native of Van Wert county.

She was a member of the Lee Street Presbyterian church.

Services Monday

Surviving with the parents are two sisters, Mrs. M. V. Lewis of 683 Bellefontaine avenue and Mrs. P. B. Carrier of Susquehanna, Pa., two nieces, Mrs. Howard Pentecost of Forest City, Pa., and Mrs. Eugene Westbrook of Susquehanna, and two nephews, Sgt. Guy T. Lewis who is stationed at Curacao, Netherlands West Indies, and Martin V. Lewis Jr., at home.

The funeral will be conducted Monday at 2 p. m. in the home with Rev. Garrison Roebuck, pastor of the First United Brethren church, officiating. Burial will be made in Marion cemetery. The body will be at the M. H. Gunder & Sons funeral home on West Center street tonight. Friends may call at the home after noon Saturday.

FORMER MARIONITE PROMOTED TO MAJOR

George Elliott McCormick, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Elliot McCormick of Chesterfield, Ind., former residents of Marion, serving as a captain on General Ridley's staff, Sixth motorized division at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., has been promoted to the rank of major, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Rolla, Mo.

Major McCormick was employed in General Motors' Allison airplane plant at Indianapolis last year when he entered upon active duty as an army reserve officer. His father was city editor of The Star for a number of years and later was Ohio State librarian during Governor Myers Y. Cooper's administration. Major McCormick was chief clerk for his father when he was state librarian and is an uncle of Mrs. John A. Guthrie of Homer street.

NAZIS THROW STRONG TANK UNITS AT REDS

Moscow Reports Enemy Effort To Seize Initiative in Ukraine Battle.

By The Associated Press

The Germans once more have hurled strong tank forces into counter-attacks in the raging battle for Kharkov, this time employing tricky new tactics of screened attack, but the new mechanized thrusts have been repulsed, Red Star said today.

"The enemy is making furious efforts to take the initiative out of our hands," the army newspaper reported, "but this is not last year, and the relation of the opposing forces is quite different."

The army organ intimated that the Germans might have "succeeded in obtaining some partial, limited successes," but declared that on the whole the Kharkov offensive was developing satisfactorily and "we have everything necessary to keep the initiative."

Asserting that new German counter-attacks had been repulsed, the Soviet information bureau announced at least local Russian gains.

"On the heels of the retreating enemy," the communique said, Russian troops "broke into a populated place."

In its account, Red Star said counter-attacking German tanks were sent into the attack in three groups—two small forces intended to distract Russian attention, then a third strong surprise force attempting to catch the Russians on the flank.

Strategy Fails

This failed and heavy losses were inflicted on the Germans, Red Star said.

Previously large-scale tank operations had dwindled temporarily except in one sector of the Kharkov front.

"The Germans had tremendous losses here," the army newspaper reported, "and are running out of breath."

Red Star said German successes on the Kerch peninsula also cost the invaders a tremendous price in men and war material.

The community newly penetrated by Soviet spearheads was not identified. The phrasing indicated the action might have been a part of an attack which the army newspaper Red Star reported yesterday had breached Nazi lines before Kharkov, wiped out a key German stronghold and carried Russian tanks and troops six miles into an open battlefield held only by German infantry and scattered pillboxes.

More than 1,300 Germans were reported slain in two engagements on the Kalinin front to the north.

The Italian high command asserted that an Italian submarine had attacked a United States naval formation off the Brazilian coast on May 20 and sunk a battleship of the Maryland class.

A special communique said the submarine Barbarigo attacked the formation 100 miles west of the island of Fernando Noronha.

In Rio De Janeiro, official Brazilian and United States quarters said they had no knowledge of any naval engagement in Brazilian waters.

Three Ships In Class

Curiously, the Italian communique asserted that U. S. destroyers escorting the battleship "did not react" to the attack.

The Maryland class includes three ships—the Maryland, Colorado and West Virginia—all launched in 1920-21 and ranging from 31,800 to 33,900 tons, with normal complements of 1,407 men each.

In the past, such axis claims have frequently turned out to be unfounded "fishing expeditions" in quest of information on allied naval movements.

On the Russian front, the German high command asserted that Soviet attacks against Kharkov had been thrown back and that Hitler's armies had seized the initiative.

Red Star said that big-scale tank operations had dwindled except in one sector, and that even there a major tank clash lasting several days continued at a lower pitch.

For the first time today's Soviet communique omitted mention of any general advance.

"During the night of May 21-22 we carried out offensive operations on Kharkov," the Russian command said.

This indicated that Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's troops still held the initiative, at least, but it seemed clear that Adolf Hitler had now brought up enough flesh-and-blood reserves to hold the Russians where steel panzers were blasted into retreat.

Front-line dispatches said yesterday the Germans were rushing heavy reinforcements into the

Long Application Form Used To Get Priorities

Marion residents taking advantage of the city's new defense housing critical area designation entitling war housing builders to priorities on the materials they will need are encountering a sizenole task in filling out the necessary papers.

Form PD-105 which must be prepared to get priorities for new construction is an 11-page document accompanied by a seven-page materials sheet—and six copies of the application must be prepared.

Here are some excerpts from the application form:

General Instructions—A separate application should be filed for each project (one or more buildings in one subdivision or on one continuous site) ..Six copies of the application must be prepared. The original and four copies must be forwarded to the local office of the Federal Housing Administration (office of A. L. Guckert, FHA director for central Ohio at Columbus). The applicant should retain one copy. This form is not to be used for hotels, rooming houses, dormitories or for repairs, remodeling, rehabilitation (Separate forms are provided for these types of work). Please use typewriter.

Specifications and Materials—A list of the kinds and quantities of materials on the Defense Housing Critical List to be physically incorporated in the project for which preference rating assistance is requested must be submitted . . . Critical materials to be used by subcontractors should be included if preference rating is wanted for such material.

One set of drawings and specifications for each basic type of structure must be submitted herewith . . .

In addition, a plot or subdivision layout plan is required showing (a) dimensions of all lot lines, (b) dimensions indicating placement of buildings, (c) description as to location of plot in sufficient detail to permit identification on map. If subdivision map is submitted, plot plans are not necessary provided dimensions as required above are indicated on subdivision plan and plan is amply identified as to location.

Any failure to abide by the agreements contained in this form may result in immediate revocation of any priority assistance granted as a result of this application and a denial of any future priorities assistance. Such action may be in addition to any other penalties provided by law.

In support of this application . . . the undersigned hereby certifies that (1) all the materials listed are necessary for the construction of, and will be used solely to complete, this project, (2) every practicable effort has been made in the planning and in the specifications for the project to avoid or restrict the use of materials which appear in the Defense Housing Critical List, (3) the materials in whole or in part, for which preference rating assistance is requested are not on hand and available for use in this project (4), delivery dates for each material will be arranged with suppliers on the basis of the expected dates of use. I pledge not to stock up on materials in advance of reasonable need for them.

A preference rating will not ordinarily be issued on buildings proposed to be started later than three months after issuance of preference rating order.

Other Details

The application form also provides blank space for complete information about the anticipated sale price or rental figure, size of houses and other general information. The material list that accompanies the application must show in detail the items that will be needed in construction. This form lists the various supplies by name and the applicant merely needs to fill in the number or quantity of these materials to be needed.

Utility Workers Call Off Warren Power Strike

By The Associated Press

WARREN, O., May 22—The CIO utility workers organizing committee today called off its threatened strike against the Ohio Public Service Co. pending consideration by the war labor board.

The union said Harold J. Straub, its national director, received a WLB request to withhold strike action, and the executive board of the local union agreed. The WLB will send an examiner here.

The union originally called the strike for last Tuesday, but held it in abeyance four days to await word from the WLB. The company supplies power to steel mills and the Ravenna shell-loading plant, has failed to meet with it for bargaining despite a certification by the national labor relations board.

FORMER KENTON SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT DIES

David B. Clark Dies At Home In Kings Mills, Ohio.

Special to The Star

KENTON, May 22 — Funeral was to be held in Delaware this afternoon for David B. Clark, 61, who was superintendent of Kenton public schools from 1919 to 1932. He died suddenly Wednesday in his home at Kings Mills, O., of an embolism.

David B. Clark

He was a native of Dunlap, Butler county, graduated from Ohio State university in 1905, and thereafter followed the teaching profession. In the terms 1905 - 08, he taught in Gordon academy at Salt Lake City, Utah; 1908-13, principal of Circleville, O., high school; 1913-16, superintendent of schools at Milford, O.; 1916-19, superintendent at Van Wert; 1919-32, superintendent at Kenton; 1932-37, business manager and co-director of Marsh Foundation at Van Wert; and 1937 until retirement two weeks ago, superintendent at Kings Mills.

For five years Mr. Clark was secretary of the Ohio High School Athletic board, and pioneered in vocational training in Ohio high schools.

Surviving him are his wife, Anna, one son, David Francis Clark of Dayton, and two daughters, Mary of Cincinnati and Helen Clark at home.

Doolittle To Be In Army Program Sunday

Brig.-Gen. James H. Doolittle, leader of the air raid on Tokyo, who went on the MBS network with little advance announcement Wednesday night to tell of his experiences, has been scheduled for another broadcast Sunday afternoon. He will join in the U. S. army hour on NBC at 3:30.

Designed to depict some of the activities of Uncle Sam's forces now stationed in the British Isles, a radio series entitled "Stars and Stripes in Britain," is to have its introduction on MBS Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

Bebe Daniels and her husband, Ben Lyon, who are living in England, will be in charge.

THREE ACCIDENTS LISTED IN MARION

Slight Damage to Vehicles Reported in Mishaps.

Three accidents, all causing slight damage to the cars involved, were reported by police today.

H. R. Wickersham of near Marion was the driver of a truck which collided with a coach driven by Virginia L. Kear of 735 North Main street. The cars came together at an angle yesterday morning on South Main street between Center and Church streets.

Autos operated by James Long of near Carrington and Mrs. Winona F. Whidden of 326 East Church street figured in a mishap yesterday afternoon in the downtown area on West Church street. The Long car was parked when it was sideswiped by the auto driven by Mrs Whidden, police said.

Mrs Anna Phillips of 195 Tully street was the driver of a car which sideswipped another owned by Harry Bellville of near Marysville and parked at West Center street and Olney avenue last night.

Season's Plan for Scout Camp Listed; Opening Set June 14

Sess To Be Handled in Groups of Not More Than 32; Bucyrus, Mt. Gilead Troops on List.

- of June 14 to 20 has ing opening of Camp sens Harding area reservation, south of operations are in charge Strother, area Boy Scout who probably will ma director this year. 1 02 Scouts will be camp at any one time, on each. The camp will Aug 1, with the scheduled to be open 19 until the close of the

Although no "camporee period," during which Scouts could come to the camps in patrols, is planned this season, Scouts can bring pup tents with them for real outdoor camping experience. If a Scout brings his own tent and equipment, only 10 cents a day will be charged for his stay.

If a Scout uses Council equipment a rate of 20 cents a day will be charged. The camp has five large tents and cooking utensils.

For Scouts who aren't able to plan their own meals and layout the last two weeks of dining hall camp are reserved. A rate of $7.50 a week for every Scout is charged during dining hall camp.

Advance Deposits

Mr. Strother said the Scoutmaster of each troop planning to go to camp this year must deposit 50 cents for every Scout not later than June 6 at the Scout office on East Church street. The deposit is required to reserve one of the camping weeks for each individual troop. Not more than two or three troops will be allowed at camp during a single week, he said.

Explaining why no "camporee" will precede regular camp this summer, he said that patrols last year camped for three days prior to the beginning of regular camp sessions and this season can easily plan to camp six days. In this way they can obtain credit for long term camping.

Camp is the place to get required merit badges for Star, Life, Eagle, first and second class Scout ratings, Mr. Strother said. A large staff of volunteers will be on hand at camp to counsel Scouts. A court of honor for presentation of awards will be held each Friday at camp.

For Scouts preparing menus for meals, Mr. Strother advised use of the Scoutmasters handbook, the patrol leaders handbook and the camping manual for possible suggestions.

Troop 18 and 21 of Bucyrus, 27 of Mt. Gilead and 15, 2, 5, 6 and 7 of Marion have already announced intentions to go to camp.

Features of the camping program will include regular swimming sessions, archery, all types of handicraft and out-of-door games of all kinds, including softball and night games. No rifle shooting will be held at camp this summer.

Handicraft Plans

The handicraft program will include all kinds of leatherwork, in which boys can use plain leather and fashion the things they desire to make or "kits" already cut and ready to assemble. Work in copper, pewter, iron and steel are also offered.

Such items might include ash trays, fruit bowls, bookends, bookmarks, billfolds, key cases, axe and knife sheathes, belts, suspenders, archery equipment, ball bats and even furniture.

Equipment in the craft hall includes three lathes, a jig saw, a sander, two small buzz saws, a drill press, forge and all hand tools for working metals, leather and wood. Equipment has been furnished by Harding area manufacturers.

Some boys who will assist at camp this year have already been appointed. Others will be appointed and announced later. Appointed are:

Ranny Williams, Star Scout of Troop 3 of 569 Summit street, assistant camp director and to be in charge of nature study; Donald Caldwell, Star Scout of Troop 3, of 285 Belmont street, camp business manager and quartermaster; Kent Daum, Star Scout of Troop 5, of 157 Homer street, unit leader and program director.

Staff Members

Staff members who have been appointed are:

Dr Robert Gray of Prospect, camp physician, R M Miller, emergency service and firemanship; Ray Romine, insect life and special program, E B Willey, public health; Mitchell Rech, pioneering and cooking.

Mr. Miller, who will be in charge of emergency service, will be in charge of such activities as rope climbing, relays, first aid and obstacle races.

As yet, no one has been appointed to be water front director, to superintend the swimming pool. Announcement of him will be made later with the possibility that Mr. Strother may have to oversee the swimming pool.

An executive board meeting, to make final camp plans and to select someone to replace C. M. Howser as area president will be held Friday at 6:30 p. m. at Camp Owens. Perle Whitehead, deputy regional Scout executive, will attend. A dinner will be served.

Mr. Howser is now with the war production board in Washington, D. C.

30TH ANNIVERSARY OF SCOUT TROOP MARKED

Organizer of Group Among Speakers at Outing.

The thirtieth anniversary of Boy Scout Troop No. 2 was celebrated Sunday at Camp John A. Owens. The troop is sponsored by the Thomas A. Edison Junior High school Parent-Teacher association.

Joe Bingham, Scoutmaster, was in charge with a committee consisting of Glenn Kellogg, chairman, Frank Shoemaker and Ross Colegrove.

Carl Midlam, organizer of the troop, gave a talk. Raymond Romine, a former troop Scoutmaster, also spoke. Other speakers were committee members.

Following a basket dinner, songs were sung around a camp fire. A demonstration of stunts was given.

Present were: Joe Bingham, Scoutmaster; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Midlam; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Romine and daughter, Sandra Jean; John Brokaw, assistant Scoutmaster, and Mrs. Brokaw and son, Douglas; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shoemaker and daughter, Joan; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Colegrove and son, Jack; Mr. and Mrs. William Cox and son, Billy; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kellogg and children, Gerald, Marilyn Jo and Jackie; Mr. and Mrs. James Riddle and son, Dick; Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Taylor and children, Robert, Ronald, Theodore, Marilyn and Alice; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon McCrery and children; Ben Rodecker, caretaker at Camp Owens; John Owens, Clifford Dennis, Calvin Brady, Lewis Cunningham, Dick Rhoads, Donald Showalter, Billy Graham, Charles Rinderle, Robert Haycraft, Rolland Haycraft, Dick White, and Roy Pletcher.

One Member of Harding Graduating Class Already Settled in Steady Job

Raymond G. Young Working in U. S. Printing Office; Won't Get Home To Receive Diploma.

A Harding senior who ranks fourth in scholarship in the class of nearly 300 graduates, probably won't be present May 29 to receive his diploma—he's in Washington on a civil service job.

The absentee is Raymond George Young, 18, son of Mrs. Marian L Young of 343 Columbia court. His diploma will be sent to him in Washington, where he is employed in the United States printing office, Principal O H P Snyder said this week.

Raymond's case might be said to be typical of the opportunities awaiting young people today as against the bleak futures faced by high school graduates of only a few years ago.

He has always liked printing and for three years he worked after school and on Saturdays at the Vaughan Printing Co shop.

One day last spring he read in The Star that civil service examinations for jobs in the government printing office were to be given in Mansfield. He took the examination in April of last year and made a grade of 97½, which he was informed later was the highest grade made by any of the applicants.

Arranges To Finish Studies

After receiving notice of the grade, no other word came until Feb 6 when an air mail letter came asking whether he was available immediately. He fired back a "Yes," and went to talk with Principal Snyder about completing his schooling in the college preparatory course.

Arrangements were made for him to complete his studies in Washington under the supervision of Mr. Snyder's sister, and to live with the principal's mother, Mrs Augusta P Snyder of Arlington, Va.

Friday, Feb 27, he left Marion and on March 2 he started on his government job.

Today he's earning $1,260 a year and is in line for promotion and an increase in pay.

In accordance with regulations, he's serving a six-month probation period, at the end of which he will be permitted to select the branch of work he desires in the printing department. When he started to work he was first bookkeeper to the chief clerk. He is now rated a "senior messenger."

Raymond loves to work with printer's type and to keep in practice at hand setting type in the period before he begins working with the government's fonts he had his mother send him one of several cases of type which he owns.

In Busy Department

The government printing office is on a seven-days-a-week schedule and Raymond wrote his mother recently that he was almost sick in the mouth not always to get home for commencement.

A trip to Washington several years ago at the time of the Boy Scout jamboree settled one thing for Raymond—some day he was going to live in the Capital.

He plans now that before another year is out his mother and sister, Jane, a sophomore this year at Harding, will be living with him in the city of his dreams.

Despite the disruption of his schooling, his grades for four years of high school work rate him fourth in the class of '42 in scholarship according to records in the principal's office.

When he left Harding he was one of the editors of the Harding Herald weekly newspaper. Editing the weekly was a Young family habit. A sister, now Mrs. George Griffith, was an editor in 1939.

When he was at Vernon Heights Junior High school he was president of his ninth grade class.

Raymond does not plan to remain in his present civil service job the rest of his life.

His outline of the future includes study at Washington university for a degree as an engineer in metallurgy, leading to a highly paid position as an engineer.

JOB PLACEMENTS IN MARION SHOW GAIN

518 Placed in April, Increase of 184 Per Cent.

Jobs filled in April by the Marion field office of the United States employment service totaled 518, according to a report issued today by F. B. Scherff, local manager.

This figure represents an increase of 184.9 per cent as compared with jobs filled in March, 1942.

Placements made by the United States employment service throughout the state totaled 37,531 in April, or 27.8 more than in the previous month, it was announced by Wade Hammond, director for Ohio.

In the period covering January through April of this year the employment service filled 110,707 jobs, a gain of 40.6 per cent over the same four months in 1941.

More than 94,000 persons made application for work last month at employment service offices, exceeding by 3.9 per cent the number applying in March. The entire number of those actively seeking work stood at 191,282 at the end of April.

To Help Keep America In Fine Fighting Fettle,
Conserve Precious Rubber and Metal;
So Here's 4 Ways To Save Ourselves Money and Trouble

To Do a Vital War Duty That's Double--
4 Ways To Help Ourselves
While We Help Our Doughty Yanks
Get More Guns, Planes, Ships and Tanks

1. Fasten electricol extension cords wherever possible to baseboards, instead of running them under rugs or through doorways where they may be stepped upon, their insulation damaged and their life shortened; and also where eventual "short circuits" in them may burn expensive rugs. The wire in all cords is copper, a precious war metal, and the covering of many is "rubber."

2. Have frayed or worn places on ALL cords, whether extension, lamp, or appliance cords, repaired promptly, so "short circuits" will not occur to result in replacement of "blown fuses," and perhaps render the cords unusable.

3. Prolong the life of automatic heat regulators and heating elements in irons by sparing them from use whenever possible; turning the irons off, for instance, when answering the door or telephone.

4. Attach portable appliances—particularly heating devices, irons, toasters, percolators, etc.—only to wall, floor or range plugs, and NOT TO LAMP SOCKETS. Ordinary lamp sockets, made for only 300 watts or less, are "overloaded" when attached to such appliances which use from 350 watts to over 1000 watts. This breaks down the socket's mechanism, shortens their life, and renders them rather unsafe.

Reasonably careful attention by all of us to the above four points will greatly lessen our own inconvenience caused by blown fuses with the resultant interruption to our electric service. It will also lighten the expense of premature replacement of fuses, cords and appliances.

The big, the important, yes, the vital thing, however, is of course that much rubber and metals can thereby be diverted without hardship to anyone into a swiftly swelling stream of guns, planes, ships and tanks for those quickly thickening ranks of fighting men known the world 'round as "The Yanks."

NEVADA MAN ORDAINED IN LUTHERAN MINISTRY

Delegates Reject Merger Of Springfield School.

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, May 22—A proposal to merge the Hamma divinity seminary at Springfield, O., with the Chicago Lutheran seminary was rejected by the Ohio synod of the United Lutheran church in America, which held the decisive vote.

Previously the merger was approved by the Indiana, Michigan, West Virginia and Warburg synods. The Kentucky-Tennessee synod also rejected it. The voting strength of the Ohio synod surpasses that of all the others.

Clergymen newly ordained at the Toledo conference included these Ohioans: Rev. Messrs. Paul Bucholtz, Orrville; Carl Coad Jr., Jeromesville; William H. Kible Jr., Gerhart-Ingomar; John H. Meister, Middletown, Edward H. Ormson, Nevada, and Carl Gladfelter, Vandalia.

Former Nevada Man Dies in Grafton, W. Va.

NEVADA — Word has been received of the death of Ross E. Hagerman, 62, a former resident of Nevada, last Friday at his home in Grafton, W. Va. A cerebral hemorrhage was the cause of his death. Mr. Hagerman operated a drug store here for many years, coming here in 1912 from Sandusky. Since moving away he had managed similar stores in Gallipolis, Charleston and Grafton, W. Va. Funeral was held at Grafton Monday.

Honor Charter Members of Galion Auxiliary

Special to The Star

GALION, May 22—Honoring the charter members who organized the group, the American Legion Auxiliary met at the post rooms Thursday. Prior to the program the fifty members and three guests were served a pot-luck supper.

Mrs. Arthur Stoner, president, opened the ceremonial service with the reading of a poem as a tribute to the guests. As a memorial to those charter members who are no longer living, Meriam Sayre read an original poem. Doris Sickmiller sang a vocal solo. The general entertainment which followed included two readings by Patty Thompson and three choral numbers by the Masonic and Eastern Star chorus.

Committee reports were given in the business meeting by Mrs. Edward Boyer and Mrs. Helen Sickmiller. Plans were completed for the poppy day to be held on Saturday, May 23, and for the Memorial day service at the Peace Lutheran church.

• • •

Installation of officers took place when the Missionary society of the First Baptist church held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. C. L. Hopkins Thursday. Assisting Mrs. Hopkins as hostess was Mrs. Wayne Rouch. The new officers are Mrs. Herbert Edwards, president, Mrs. P. L. Miller, vice president; Mrs. C. L. Hopkins, secretary, and Mrs. Merle Gow, treasurer.

• • •

Guests when Kathryn Brewer entertained her bridge club Thursday were Dorothy Volk and Dorothy Augenstein.

• • •

Shirley Hemmerly was in charge of refreshments and entertainment when the Luther League of the Peace Lutheran church held a box social Thursday night. In the contests which were enjoyed during the social hour Blair and Byron Musselman were the winners.

Continuing the study topic led by Rev. William Martin, the members of the Co-Workers class of the First Presbyterian church met Thursday. Mrs. Ellison Garberick was in charge of the program. Hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Logan.

Mrs. O. E. Knepp, of Galion was elected vice president of the Woman's missionary association of the Sandusky branch of the United Brethren church when the annual convention of the church was held in Shelby this week. Mrs. Daryl Huffman of Crestline was named to succeed Mrs. S. L. Beaty of Rockford as secretary.

China Must Be Puzzled

CHINA'S urgent call for help to avert a knockout brings into sharp focus the paradox of that war-weary country's desperate position. It has never needed help so sorely as it does as the result of being helped. Until its potential allies entered the war in the Far East as combatants, China's ability to resist the Japanese was little short of miraculous. But when the United States and Great Britain began to help fight the Japanese, things quickly went from bad to worse for the Chinese. They lost the Burma road as a supply line. They found themselves fighting the Japanese on a new front in the south, closer to Chungking than the enemy ever had been before. Now, they are convinced that Japan has decided to deliver a knockout blow; that from the alternatives Tokyo had to choose from it has chosen to break China's resistance before trying to invade Australia, opening war on Russia, or tackling India.

China's spokesman, T. F. Tsiang, has said unequivocally that his country must have all the help it can get; that if Japan can not be stopped now the United Nations will pay dearly in the future for the relief Japan would derive from a successful conclusion of its Chinese "adventure." China needs planes, planes and more planes, says its statement. Officials in Washington and London who are mapping the plans of war must be painfully conscious of the fact that China shares with Russia the distinction of successful resistance to the predatory powers and that if anything happens to China they have lost one of the most important members of the anti-Axis bloc. China must be puzzled at the possibility that its importance in the war may be under-rated at a critical moment.

Germany's Blind Spot

PROBABLY none of Adolf Hitler's terrorists will read John Steinbeck's penetrating little book on Germany's blind spot—and if they did they wouldn't get the point.

In "The Moon Is Down," Steinbeck uses an idea so topical it almost could be borrowed from any daily newspaper. The Germans—not just the Nazis today but the Prussian militarists of World war I—defeat themselves by brutality. They can win battles but they can't win wars because they don't know how to govern.

They can't understand there is an alternative to brutality, or if they do understand it they do not believe in it. To be sure, they tried consideration and tact on the peoples they conquered in this war, but they plainly tried them with suspicion. As soon as they encountered resistance, they resorted to firing squads, thereby creating more resentment and more resistance.

Last week, for instance, Frenchmen blanched at the news that Reinhard Heydrich had been transferred from Czechoslovakia to Paris. He is the Nazi party's expert at quelling "unrest," a man whose tactics have won him the title of executioner. His arrival in the city was celebrated by the murder of 50 hostages.

This week Dutchmen heard with equal horror that Heinrich Himmler was being dispatched to the Netherlands to deal with anti-Nazi violence there. Himmler, it was reported, had conferred with Executioner Heydrich, his lieutenant, and that could mean only one thing. Hundreds of Dutchmen would be murdered as hostages. It is the only thing the German authoritarian understands.

It was the method used by his prototype in World war I to discipline conquered peoples, and it failed then. With no heritage of freedom, themselves, the executioner type of German simply cannot comprehend the tremendous driving force of the human desire to be free; it is stronger than cowardice. It defeats the German assumption that rebellion can be stifled by killing its leaders: new leaders will appear. It upsets the German dream of holding whole nations in subjugation as slaves: Frenchmen, Dutchmen, Belgians, Yugoslavs and Czechs would rather die than be slaves.

Germany had a chance in this war to win. Its army and its air force were good enough to win all the battles, until they encountered Russia. Even though they couldn't invade Britain, they could hold the British at bay. But the German tradition of brutalitarianism lost no time asserting itself in terrorism—and thereafter it was predetermined that Germany was going to lose the war.

Cossacks, Etc.

WHAT do the experts make of Cossacks bobbing up in Adolf Hitler's machine-made war and terrorizing the fighters of the super-race from horseback? What, in fact, has happened to all the experts? They are strangely quiet.

Things have not been doing well from their point of view. The cavalry is outmoded but the cavalry reappears. There is striking similarity between armored knights on horseback and tank crews propelled by horsepower. The U. S. navy wishes it had a few airships and reports good results from motor-driven balloons in anti-submarine warfare. Ah yes, and the submarine, which was driven to cover 24 years ago for good, ranges far and wide with high success. All that remains to turn the experts topsy-turvy is for a battleship to shoot down 40 bombers without sustaining so much as a near-hit.

News Behind the News

Evidences of U. S. Superior Skill and Ingenuity Begin To Show in War.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, May 22 — The worm is turning in this war. Acknowledged superior skill, energy and ingenuity of the United States are beginning to appear in aggressive action.

You can see it in the battle of the Coral Sea, in the arrival unheralded of a great mass of concealed troops in Ireland but particularly in the exploit of General Doolittle and the 79 fliers we took to Japan.

Their venture will be imperishably famous, not because of the exceptional military damage done (we do not yet know how much it was), but because of the incredible circumstances that they carried a bombing attack halfway around the world and escaped without a single plane shot down. The feat was distinctive for three reasons:

ONE—The attack was made at mid-day in clear weather. The Nazis, British and others generally have been staging their bombing raids at night, to get the protecting cover of darkness. Even the Jap raid on Pearl Harbor was a sneak-up attack at dawn.

TWO—The 80 Doolittlers did precision bombing. Each man had a target designated. The customary way of this war so far has been what they call pattern bombing. The bombardiers come in upon targets in formation and drop their eggs together, hoping a few will strike home in the right spots. The Doolittlers picked the right spots, went to them, saw them and split them from 1,500 feet.

THREE — Everyone else has been looking for altitude to get away from anti-aircraft fire. They devised even stratosphere bombers with telescopic bombsights. Gen. Doolittle found the answer they have been looking for, but in the opposite direction. He rendered the anti-aircraft guns of Japan useless by coming in over Japan at an altitude of about 100 feet or less and staying there until the boys found their objectives. Of course that is too low for actual bombing. You are apt to get caught in the explosion you cause. At the objectives, the Doolittlers went up to 1,500 feet where they could drop an egg through the eye of a needle.

It is practically impossible for any A-A gun to catch a fast plane at 1,500 feet, wholly impossible at 100 feet. The range finder on the 3-inch A-A gun in common use assumes to catch the plane at the point where it should be by the time the shell gets there. This gun is therefore, effective only about 4,000 feet where the plane moves slowly across its vision.

Everybody has another A-A gun, the 37 MM, for use between 2,000 and 4,000 feet. That is why the Doolittlers went no higher than 1,500 feet. At that altitude their planes, carrying special new devices which are the produce of American inventive genius, traveled so fast nothing could move fast enough to catch them except a machine gun.

But at their invasion altitude of 100 feet or less they crossed the horizon of any given machine gun so fast that the gunner could hardly have known they were coming before they were gone.

This explains why no plane was lost, why the Japs cashiered the generals in charge of their defense and started figuring up some new ideas of protection, why they could think of nothing to do afterward except howl that only hospitals and schools were bombed.

Can you imagine one of those Doolittlers carrying a bomb all the way to Japan to waste it on a non-military objective at midday from 1,500 feet? Why, he could shave off the emperor's mustache under those conditions.

Now none of these new phases is entirely new to the warring minds of men, but no one ever before put them together in the way Gen. Doolittle did. Herein lies all the elements of the story of how and why we will win the war.

We have always had the best fliers and the best planes. It has taken us a while to adapt them to superior conditions which were presented to us. We are just beginning to show our stuff.

The secret weapon of the United States is the same as always. We have Doolittles in our armed services and our factories.

War Outlook

The questioned column of May 8 suggesting the Japs would probably next turn back on China to knock her out of the war with a pincer drive down the Yangtze and up through Yunnan, has now been fully confirmed in dispatches (May 20) from Chungking. The prospect that China would be in a bad way is now being suggested by the Chinese authorities.

Invasion of Australia now seems more remote than ever. Attack on India seems out of the Jap program entirely. (Both these remote possibilities then were being widely predicted, you will remember.)

Of two real prospects suggested in that May 8 column, one is still alive. A Jap attack on Russia may be started jointly with the operations in China at any time.

But the Jap move to seize islands east of Australia, (New Hebrides, New Caledonia, New Zealand) to cut our line of supplies, has certainly been delayed by the battle of the Coral Sea. However, no one knows for how long.

Puzzle

The Russian fighting is involved on both sides in a complicated system of counter-attacks which are difficult to measure from day to day. The Germans started at Kerch; the Russians moved at Kharkov to relieve Kerch; the German counter-attack south of Kharkov to relieve Kharkov. No one will be able to guess well how the fighting is going until it develops further.

It Isn't New Army Jive

Just the Way the British Talk. U. S. Troops Learn.

WITH THE UNITED STATES FORCES IN NORTHERN IRELAND, May 22—(Wide World)—When one of the boys over here writes home to say he spent a tanner at the flesher's and a bob for the bloody cinema and, on the way home, carrying a load of stout and without a torch, fell over a pram, which somewhat browned him off—

It isn't a new brand of army jive talk, it's British.

For aid in translating letters, here's a glossary from the Stars and Stripes, weekly newspaper of the United States armed forces in Britain:

A.T.S — Auxiliary Territorial Service. Or—a terrific sensation (editor's note, the ATS wear skirts, and we don't mean Scotsmen).

Banshee—Spirits, in the non-alcoholic sense of the word.

Bloody — Dratted, blooming, pesty, nasty. As in sergeant.

Bob—English jive talk for a shilling.

Browned off—Overheated, as in "burned up."

Chemist shop—Same as our drugstores, sans sandwiches.

Cinema—Galloping flickers.

Codding—No kidding, it's codding, not kidding.

Fags—Coffin nails.

Flesher—Where you get your pound of flesh: liver, beef, lamb chops.

Fruiterer—See "flesher" and figure it out for yourself.

Guinea—Not a hen, but you can buy one with it. Twenty-one shillings.

Half-crown—Two shillings and sixpense. About four bits. Remember?

Half four—Doesn't add up to two. Means half-past four or four-thirty: A. M. or P. M., as the case may be.

How you going?—What's cooking, Bub?

Jerry—A. Schicklgruber and his cronies.

Lift—A hitch-hiker's ambition, and a carriage for transportation between floors of a building. An elevating word.

Liquid stockings—No runs, no snags, no holes, no ladders, no steams, no stockings. They're just painted on where stockings ought to go.

Pram—See below. Has its advantages. No one ever asks you to say "rubber pram bumpers" ten times real fast.

Petrol—Joy juice for an automobile.

Poulterer—See fruiterer.

Shilling—Twelve pence, worth about two cents, if that makes any difference.

Stone—Fourteen pounds, avoirdupois, not monetary.

Stout—A drink that makes you feel that way.

Tanner — Sixpence, approximately a dime.

Torch—Blues singers carry them, so does everyone else. Flashlights to you.

Tram—Tram, tram, tram, the boys are riding. We'd call them streetcars.

Pound—Sixteen ounces at home but 240 pence or twenty shillings (about $4) over here.

W.A.A.F.—Women's Auxiliary Air Force. Or—wonderful women.

W.R.N.S. — Women's Royal Naval Service. Or—joys of my life.

Property Taxes

The National Association of Assessing Officers has been looking into its crystal ball and reports these guesses about taxes on real and personal property:

Assessments will decline and tax rates will rise within the next two years.

Land taken over by the federal government for military and naval establishments and other tax-exempt uses will curtail revenue from property taxes.

Declining use of automobiles will reduce assessment values on service station properties, dealers' salesrooms, resort properties, golf clubs.

For the same reason some increase in the value of property, such as residences, amusement places and parcels near transportation systems may be expected.

Occupants of properties housing hardware stores and other enterprises hit hard by priorities will be forced to seek reduced rents.

Stoppage of private building construction except in areas important to the war effort, will practically erase this source of annual increase in assessment rolls.

"LOST HORIZON"

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, May 22, 1932.

Amelia Earhart Putnam, first woman to fly the Atlantic alone, was acclaimed by enthusiastic crowds as she went about London.

Rev. Howard L. Olewiler, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, gave the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of Harding High school, assembled at Epworth M. E. church. He spoke on "Open His Eyes", and in development of the theme placed emphasis on the close relationship of the church and school as educational bulwarks of the world and on the necessity of an education in both the school and the church for a complete life.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Chambers of Forest street were week-end visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Odell Thompson of Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kiehl of Windsor street returned from a visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fletcher of Rochester, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hecker of near Kenton, formerly of Marion, were given a surprise party at their home in honor of their silver wedding anniversary.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Monday, May 22, 1922.

Announcement was made that General Pershing would be in Marion for the city's centennial celebration July 4 and 5. Notice came in a letter received by James E. Messenger, member of the centennial program committee, from Brig. Gen. C. E. Sawyer, President Harding's personal physician. Gen. Sawyer's letter, sent from Washington, read, "I have just received word from Gen. Pershing accepting my personal invitation to join us on our trip to Marion for the centennial on July 4 and 5. It is the present intention to go from here by automobile. The general will be our guest at White Oaks farm. We are also to have as our guest at White Oaks Farm Gen. Charles E. Dawes". It was also announced that Secretary of War Weeks was expected to attend the centennial celebration.

Z. P. Davis, division claim agent for the Erie in Marion, returned from Montreal where he attended the 33rd annual convention of the Association of Railway Claim Agents.

Marion city school teachers appointed a committee to confer with the board of education in regard to a cut in teachers' salaries ordered for the coming year. Making up the committee were R. A. Garvin, Mack D. Metz, Miss Louella M. Scholl, Miss Grace Baldwin and Mrs. Ferne West.

J. E. Davis was named chairman of the memorial committee of Kosciusko Lodge, I. O. O. F., committee members were Charles Krack and M. L. Milholland.

Members of the political science and ad departments of the Business Women's club held a picnic at Garfield park. Miss Mavetta Seigfried gave a group of readings.

The Sesame club was entertained by Mrs. Howard Jacoby at her home on Cherry street.

Equipment Needed

OKLAHOMA CITY — Here's another First Aid joke:

Mrs. James F. McMurry was fussing and fuming because she was doing her spring housecleaning and the bed fell apart. She couldn't get the mattress fixed in place at one end.

She called her husband. A sheepish expression stole over his face as she told him her troubles.

"You see," he admitted, "I took the slats to use them as splints in teaching students how to care for broken legs."

Tropical Fruit Imports

If Bananas Are Scarce, Blame It on the War.

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
Wide World Features Writer

WASHINGTON, May 22 — If that banana split appears a bit emaciated on the banana side this summer, you can blame that, too, on the war.

Hefty reductions in imports and advances in the price of the popular tropical fruit are the results of wartime shipping difficulties. Big banana steamships, which formerly carried the fruit in specially-refrigerated hold are now transporting war materials.

Smaller boats are being pressed into service in an effort to bring in fairly adequate supplies from Central American countries, but a decline of about 40 per cent—and possibly more—in our normal imports is expected. That would mean getting along with about two billion less bananas than we usually consume in a year. In 1940 we imported 52 million bunches which figuring 100 bananas to the bunch after deducting for wastage, would be some 5,200,000,000 bananas.

Discovered Centuries Ago

Sixty years ago the banana was a rare delicacy in this country, although its use as a food in the tropics is ancient. The armies of Alexander the Great found the fruit in abundance in the valley of the Indus in 327 B. C. and went on a banana orgy.

Bananas are not rated essential to civilian morale, but they are a Yankee food staple and a standard item in millions of lunch boxes. And you can expect Uncle Sam to facilitate as far as possible the importation of a commodity which is the economic life blood of such Good Neighbors as Honduras, Guatemala and Panama.

Mexico also is a big producer of bananas and sends the fruit to the states by the trainloads.

The banana import problem is complicated by the need for extra care in handling the perishable fruit and for distributing and selling it without much delay.

More Pineapples

For pineapples, chief rival of bananas as a tropical fruit, the supply situation has been uncertain but looks more favorable. War conditions in Hawaii may curtail that crop but a large supply of canned pineapple is expected. The Hawaiian shipping prospect appears brighter because boats carrying military supplies to our Pacific outposts can bring in large loads of canned pineapple and other commodities on return trips.

Olives have been higher in price but no severe shortage is as yet indicated. There has been some reduction in shipments from Spain but that impoverished country is still sending us a lot of pickled olives. The harvest of olives in California has been large in the last two years.

Shortages in our tropical fruit supplies are offset, however, by tremendous production of domestic fruits.

Millions of Bees

DELPHOS, O.—Millions of bees began arriving this week from Georgia in one-pound "packages"—a ball containing approximately 5,000 bees.

Delphos is one of the largest shipping centers for honey in the United States. There are approximately 10,000 colonies in the surrounding section. In a normal season more than a half a million pounds of honey are shipped from here.

FOREIGN SPIES LAND ON COAST OF MAINE

Accurate Information of Activity Reported by Officials.

By The Associated Press

AUGUSTA, Me., May 22—Francis H. Farnum, state director of civilian defense, said today that "accurate information is in the possession of police and army authorities to show that foreign agents have recently been landed on the coast of Maine."

"Others have come into the state over the Canadian border or from other parts of the United States," Farnum said in a prepared statement. "They are here for a good purpose and they are in our midst now. They come to do no damage, to destroy."

Yesterday civilians and members of the volunteer defense corps were warned by United States and state officials in Boston to exercise especial watchfulness for enemy and fifth column activity along the New England coast.

Farnum warned it was "entirely possible the enemy may attempt to land parachutists or other air-borne troops in Maine" and added that "an attempt may even be made to organize bands of fifth columnists."

He urged the public to be watchful, "think before you act, but not instantly if your suspicions cannot be fully satisfied."

Two Merchant Ships Also Reported Sent Down.

By The Associated Press

Allied submarines were credited officially today with sinking a Japanese cruiser and two merchant ships totaling 15,... tons in the battle of the Southwest Pacific, while United Nations warplanes knocked out 14 more Japanese planes in attacks on enemy bases in New Guinea and the Solomons.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communiques identified the cruiser as one of the Kako class, built in 1926-27, with six 8-inch guns and a normal crew of 604 men.

On the China war front, American and other missionaries left Kinhwa as Japan's furious offensive drew near that strategic city, provisional capital of Chekiang province and rail gateway to central China.

Chekiang lies below Shanghai on the China east coast, within easy bombing range of Tokyo. The main Japanese column, driving down the Chekiang-Hunan railway, was reported only 35 miles from Kinhwa.

Two Torpedoes Sink U. S. Vessel in Ninety Seconds

By The Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS, May 22 — Ninety seconds after two torpedoes crashed amidships, a medium sized United States cargo ship plunged to the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico, Saturday, May 16, carrying to death at least 21 members of the crew and gun crew, the navy disclosed today.

There was not time to use the radio to summon help and the survivors rode liferafts for three hours before being picked up. They were hospitalized in Galveston, Tex., when brought ashore.

STEEL UNION VOTES POWER TO PRESIDENT

Given Right To Name and Remove Organizers.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 22—Overriding one delegate's cry of "dictatorship," the United Steel Workers of America today authorized their international president to appoint and remove the union's organizers and other representatives.

The CIO-USA's constitutional convention of 1,700 delegates approved this provision on a standing vote, with approximately 100 in opposition, after CIO President Philip Murray appealed for its adoption.

"I do not know who will be president of this organization," said Murray, who is expected to get the $20,000-a-year job, "but I wouldn't want to assume the responsibility if all my field officers were elected."

"A few giant steel corporations" are blamed by the steelworkers for the industry's "failures" to expand production, and for an inadequate flow of steel products for ships. It also charges they are "strangling smaller firms to death."

The CIO in its constitutional convention adopted a resolution on "inadequacy of steel capacity," demanding that congress investigate "the work of the so-called steel expansion committee of the war production board," which it asserted "has sabotaged the order to expand steel ingot capacity immediately by 10,000,000 tons."

CONFEREES START WORK ON SERVICE PAY BILL

Added Cost of Measure Set at Half Billion.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 22—Armed with official estimates that house-proposed pay boosts for fighting men of lower grades would add approximately $408,000,000 to the annual service payroll, senate and house conferees sought to agree today on whether to restore a lower scale of increases approved by the senate.

Chairman May, Democrat of the house military committee declared he would stick to his original stand for a $42 monthly pay rate for army privates and apprentice seamen.

This was the figure the senate approved and the house committee recommended. A doughboy-conscious house, however, overwhelmingly voted to boost the rate to $50 a month for privates and apprentice seamen, and to $54 for first class privates and second class seamen. The senate and the house committee approved $48 for the latter group.

Under present pay schedules, privates and apprentice seamen get $21 a month during their first four months, $30 a month for the next eight months, and $40 monthly after the first year. Second class seamen and first class privates receive $36 a month.

First Commissary Unit Goes Into Operation at War Plant

To Be Expanded Into 24-Hour-a-Day Cafeteria To Serve Meals to Construction Workers.

One of the planned commissaries to be erected on the site of the Scioto Ordnance Plant was placed in operation last week under the direction of John G. McCloskey, commissary manager for the Hunkin-Conkey Construction Co., general contractors for the plant.

The unit will be in operation one shift each day. A second unit is expected to be opened later. Eventually a staff of five will man each commissary. A cafeteria to operate 24 hours a day is also planned. No definite plans for the cafeteria have been made.

Mr. McCloskey, a native of Vermont, has 15 years of experience behind him in operation of hotels throughout the country. At one time he worked in the stewards' department of the Biltmore in New York City and later was employed in the purchasing department of the Miami Biltmore, Miami, Fla. Before coming to the Ravenna Ordnance plant about 18 months ago, he was employed as a hotel accountant by Horwath and Horwath of New York City.

In planning the local commissaries he is following the same system as used successfully at Ravenna, where 300 cases of soft drinks, a quarter-ton of frankfurters and 5,000 meals were served daily during the construction period. A recreation room and cigar stand was also operated in connection with the Ravenna plant.

The commissaries will be operated on a non-profit basis, however, they will be self-supporting, Mr. McClaskey said. Price-fixing on foods will simplify computing costs of meals, he added.

1912 Olympics Star on War Plant Job

Herbert N. Putnam, 52, a star member of the 1912 Olympics at Stockholm, Sweden, is now starring as superintendent of contract engineering for Hunkin-Conkey Construction Co., general contractors for the construction of the Scioto Ordnance Plant.

He competed in the 800-meter finals. Details of his athletic and professional career is contained in the current issue of the Scioto Victory News, plant employes' weekly newspaper.

Born in Freedonia, N. Y., May 7, 1890 he was raised on the banks of Lake Erie in western New York state.

A graduate of the college of architecture of Cornell university in 1912, Mr. Putnam is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity and as a member of the varsity cross country and track squads. He starred in college in the mile and half-mile events, running during the same era as the famous "miler," John Paul Jones.

Mr. Putnam and his wife, Pauline Howe Putnam of Ithaca, N. Y., are parents of two children. A daughter, Bettie, is the wife of Lt. Burton E. Beck of Indianapolis, now stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla. A son, H. N. Putnam Jr., 20, is a student at Western Reserv university in Cleveland.

Mr. Putnam worked for various contractors in Cleveland after graduating from college. During World War I he was with the Mellon-Stuart Co., builders of homes for shipyard workers at Newport News, Va.

Except for five years during which he served in the city engineering department of Cleveland, he has been with the Hunkin-Conkey Construction Co. since 1922. He also served as project engineer on two federal housing projects near Louisville.

He came to the Scioto Ordnance Plant from a similar position at the Ravenna Ordnance Plant. As a member of the Hunkin-Conkey firm he has served on the Industrial Rayon project at Painesville, the Woodhill housing project at Cleveland and the Terrace Hill Housing project at Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Putnam are living at 201 South Greenwood street.

Foremen Hold Meeting at Clark School

Ability to compute the cost of a job speedily is the mark of a good foreman, B. J. Bartholmew told foremen of the Scioto Ordnance Plant at a regular foremen's meeting Thursday of last week in the old Clark school.

Frank Fogg, superintendent of labor, suggested that tool boxes for small tools be constructed and kept on each job. The use of these, he pointed out, will do away with issuing of the same tools each day by the tool supply office.

All foremen were instructed to keep their men out of farm buildings in the area because they are government property and entrance is only lawful when special permission has been granted.

All men layed off must be given lay-off slips. The copy marked "employe" must be given to the employe. The copy marked "Time Dept." should be sent to the nearest time office as early as possible after the employe has been dismissed. The lay-off slip must be checked on the back whether the lay-off was made temporarily or for unsatisfactory service.

Stressing the necessity of being accurate in submitting the foremen's daily report forms, J. L. Heller said that the cost department will make an itemized record of the cost of each operation. He stated that the war department is insisting on the maintenance of an accurate cost record thus making it necessary for the cost department to receive the full cooperation of all field men and superintendents.

Mr. Bartholmew suggested that each foreman become more interested in the work he is doing. By properly appraising the job on hand, the foremen should arrive at an approximate labor cost to be expended on the particular job. He said keener interest on the part of foremen would eventually spread to the individual workers, resulting in a general pick-up in the amount of work accomplished. Following this up the general superintendent remarked that there is a world of information which foremen may acquire by familiarizing themselves with what it costs in man hours to do the various types of work.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, it was announced.

LaRue Youth First in Area To Sign for Naval Aviation Under New Rules

Joins in New Classification Permitting Enlistment of High School Graduates; Passes Tests.

A LaRue youth is the first man in the five-county Marion United States naval recruiting area to enter naval aviation under the new classification admitting high school graduates, Recruiting Officer C. F. Silber announced today in connection with four more enlistments this week.

He is Keith Fields, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Fields of LaRue. Since his graduation from the LaRue High school in '39 he has assisted his father in operating the family farm in Union county.

Fields enlisted in naval aviation for four years. He passed the "coarse screening" test at the Marion station and yesterday passed the "fine screening" test given in Columbus by the flight selection board.

The second test included the chair spinning test, color, eye, general physical fitness and education requirements.

After passing the test in Columbus he was sworn in and sent home, awaiting call, probably within a month.

Upon being called he probably will spend three months in a university, completing required scholastic work, and then will be sent to one of the naval aviation training fields.

The other four enlistments, all in the naval reserve for two years, are Jack Leland Riggs, 17, of 384 Lee street, Samuel Ralph Christian, 18, of 314 Uneeda avenue, and Leo Ralph Lehman, 20, and Orville Dale Loucks, 29, both of Bloomdale, O.

A new supply of red, white and blue window stickers for families of men in navy service has been received at the Marion station in the post office and will be given free to any one in the five-county area who can identify himself or herself as a relative of a man in the navy. A letter from the person in service is the best identification, according to Mr. Silber.

The five-county area served by the Marion station is composed of Marion, Wyandot, Hardin, Hancock and Seneca counties.

CIVILIANS WARNED TO KEEP SILENCE

War Department Tells Employes Not To Talk.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 22—With the United States army now circling the earth, the war department today warned its civilian employes returning from overseas assignments not to talk about where they had been or what they had seen.

American troops, land and air, hold advanced positions in more than a score of spots in all quarters of the globe.

To guard against leakage of vital information concerning these vast overseas operations, Secretary of War Stimson disclosed that he had reminded the department's civilian employes that their military observations should not be discussed with any one but authorized officials.

Specifically, the secretary enjoined silence on 12 subjects, among them ports of embarkation and debarkation, the type of overseas activity, routes of convoys, names of ships, composition of convoys, troop concentrations, battle casualties, damage done to the enemy or damage inflicted by the enemy, air routes, or points of arrival or departure by air.

Unwarranted Pay Raises Opposed by President

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 22 — President Roosevelt declared today that the government would do everything it could to prevent what he termed unwarranted pay increases by private plants.

A half dozen steps might be taken, the President said, but he did not enumerate any of them to his press conference.

He remarked efforts would be made to keep private plants in line with the general policy of wage stabilization as a result of a question about an aircraft company in Southern California which was willing to raise wages. Asked whether that would conflict with his program to hold down living costs, Mr. Roosevelt said he thought it would because we could not have one plant, which was able to pay, granting raises which would make workers in other plants unhappy.

GOVERNMENT SEIZURE OF AUTOS FORECAST

Brookings Survey Predicts Taking of Cars.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 22—Government requisitioning next year of several million privately-owned automobiles was envisioned as a distinct possibility by the Brookings Institution today.

The private research organization in a survey and report by Charles L. Dearing made this prediction in urging immediate nation-wide rationing of gasoline to save tires and cars for later allocation to essential war uses.

The administration is studying the question of extending to other parts of the country the gasoline restrictions now enforced in the east and northwest. To save more than 100,000 pounds of crude rubber, it already has ordered a ban on sightseeing and uneconomical charter busses after June 1.

The Brookings survey said immediate rationing of gasoline on a nationwide basis offered the "only reasonable aspect of averting a breakdown in essential automobile transportation."

But even with this in force, it added, it "may prove necessary to requisition several million vehicles during 1943 in order to insure maintenance of adequate automobile transportation throughout the remainder of the war."

Plane Gas and Rubber Taken from Crude Oil

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 22 — The Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) has worked out a process by which basic materials for synthetic rubber and better aviation gasoline can be recovered simultaneously from petroleum, and calls it "the biggest development since we began experimenting with synthetics."

The new process was announced on the heels of a recommendation by Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce, that America's synthetic rubber goal be boosted to 1,000,000 tons a year from a scheduled 800,000.

"This process may double or triple the capacity of the plants that are now being built to produce materials for artificial rubber," President W. S. Farish of Standard said in describing the new technique.

It was emphasized, however, that any increased output would not be sufficient to mean tires for the average motorist at least for the present.

Widespread Suffering Predicted After War

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 22—Suffering on an "unprecedented" scale will follow the war, Dr. Hugh C. Stuntz, vice president of Scarritt college, Nashville, Tenn., declared today.

The educator addressed the closing session of a four-day meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church.

"We must plan to feed millions, plan to salvage the ruins of national life in many lands," said Dr. Stuntz.

Employment Service Aids Draft Boards

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 22—Wade Ellis, director of the federal employment service in Ohio, said today his department had been cooperating for nearly a year with draft boards to prevent drafting of men with war occupation skills who could not be replaced.

Hammond asserted that the directive by Paul V. McNutt, federal manpower chief, to the selective service system yesterday merely formalized the practice being followed in Ohio.

Four new cold storage warehouses with a capacity for 5,000,000 tons of butter will be erected by French dairying interests now under the government.

Tokyo Now Seems To Be Abandoning Axis Band Wagon

(This daily feature conducted by Delbert MacKenzie, Wide World war analyst, is being written during his absence for a vacation by Dick Vandiver Swiggett).

There is more evidence today, in so far as the axis is concerned, that this is where Japan came in.

The Japanese have gone back to earnest to their gigantic labors in China. After entering free China by the back door, penetrating Yunnan province by way of Burma, they have thrown some 125,000 troops into action in the eastern provinces of Chekiang, Fukien and Kiangsi, which they have never really occupied in the strict sense of the word.

This east China drive goes further than an attempt to eliminate allied air bases within bombing range of Tokyo, although that factor undoubtedly has lent urgency to the move. Primarily however, it seems to be the beginning of a general offensive in which Japan picks up where she left off before Pearl Harbor—a major endeavor to complete the "pacification" of China, which, after five long years, remains Japan's No. 1 problem in Asia.

This is the interpretation placed on the Chinese developments by some students of the Jap war strategy:

1. Japan is beginning to consolidate, or mop up, following her sensational victories over thousands of miles of the west Pacific area.

2. She prefers to try to knock China out, no trivial undertaking, rather than attempt new major conquests.

3. This precludes any large-scale invasion of India or Australia, although parts of east India may be attacked in order to break the last allied communications with China, and there may be sizeable naval action in the Coral sea area for the purpose of blockading Australia from U. S. aid.

4. Therefore, so far as Japan is concerned, collaboration with Germany is finished and the axis no longer is a real factor in Japanese military strategy. Germany can do nothing now for Japan; why should Japan do anything for Germany, such as attack Siberia, until it suits Japan's own selfish ends?

There is nothing in this analysis to cause any great degree of jubilation among the United Nations; indeed, the fact that our enemies are separated in design and strategy may well mean a longer war, for the collapse of one will no longer tend to pull the other down.

Plans Care of Children for Women War Workers

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 22—Ohio is preparing to care for the children of women needed in war industries.

Courtney Burton, executive director of the state defense council, announced he would appoint a committee to study the problem of caring for children while mothers operate war goods machines.

One suggestion was that day-long kindergartens be made a part of the public school system, so that mothers could leave children there.

MEXICO ON VERGE OF DECLARING WAR

Word of Action Against Germany Awaited.

By The Associated Press

MEXICO CITY, May 22—Mexico hung on the verge of an outright declaration of war against the axis powers today following rejection by Berlin of her protest against the sinking of a Mexican tanker off the Florida coast last week.

While the country awaited a statement from President Manuel Avila Camacho that was expected to decide the issue, the tenseness of the situation was heightened by reports that two more Mexican ships had been torpedoed.

A former president, General Lazaro Cardenas, commander of the west coast defense zone and probable choice for supreme commander of Mexico's armed forces in event of war, sped to the capital by plane "to receive my orders from the president."

Orders were issued to the commanders of all other military zones to remain at their posts, and the chief of the general staff announced tersely that "the army is prepared."

The country as a whole remained quiet.

U. S. Shipyards Send 27 Vessels Down Ways

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 22—The United States, now in the midst of history's greatest merchant ship construction program, observes national maritime day today with the launching of 27 vessels and ceremonies in many cities.

Launchings were scheduled for all coasts and the great lakes.

The day marked the inauguration of a two-a-day production rate, the commission said. This is to be increased to three a day in the fall.

The merchant ship program calls for approximately 23,000,000 deadweight tons of shipping by the end of 1943. The goal this year is 8,000,000 tons. Next year's goal of 15,000,000 tons is expected to be increased, possibly, to 20,000,000 tons.

Large Crowd Attends Club Mayfair Opening

Herbert Howard and Frank Horvath, managers of Marion's newest night club, the Club Mayfair, estimated attendance at nearly 800 in last night's formal opening.

Several hundred others visited the club during the hours of 6 p. m. and 2:30 a. m. and about 300 persons could not be served because of the unusually heavy turnout, they said.

Priest Takes War Job To Bring Peace Sooner

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, May 22—A 55-year-old priest of Cincinnati's St. Andrew's Rumanian Orthodox church, who believes every minister also should work for his country, has just finished his first week as an assembly hand in the plant of one of the largest machine tool firms in the world.

Rev. Alexander Bogdasch, who took a ten-week course at a vocational high school before getting the job, wears his plant identification badge proudly and explains:

"The length of the war depends on the workers. We must produce. We must get rid of arguments. They only delay victory."

"I think every minister should put in part of his time in service of his country," he continued.

He gave half of his first paycheck to the Cincinnati war chest.

The wedding took place at 11 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents with Dr. Ralph D. Kearns, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, reading the service. Only members of the immediate family and a few close friends were present.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a powder blue suit with navy blue accessories, and a corsage of orchids. Her only attendant was her cousin, Miss Janet Lenzo of LaRue, who wore a costume of beige and brown, with green accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds and carnations. Vincent Morrow of Flint, was Lieut. Carson's best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Johnson chose a navy crepe dress with which she wore powder blue accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of pink rosebuds and carnations.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were hosts at a wedding dinner at Zehnder's hotel at Frankenmuth and later Lieut. Carson and his bride left for Windsor, Ontario, where the bridegroom is stationed.

Before entering army service Lieut. Carson was employed as an engineer with General Motors at Oshawa, Ontario.

Claridon Progressive Farm Women Meet

Mrs. Lawrence Kline and Mrs. Eugene Douce were associate hostesses for a meeting of the Claridon Progressive Farm Women's club Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henrietta Van Gorden of south of Claridon. Mrs. Freda Smith conducted devotions and there was a memorial service for deceased members of the club. Quotations on "Nature" were given in response to roll call. Mrs. Nate Shelton entertained with a piano number, "Russian Folk Song" and Mrs. Eugene Douce gave a group of poems on "Mother." A social hour followed the program. The members will hold a family picnic the evening of June 17 at the home of Mrs. Ed Gray south of Marion. The meeting will be at 7:30 o'clock.

Social Meeting Held By St. Mary Sewing Group

Tables were filled for cards when St. Mary Sewing circle held a social meeting last night at the Catholic Community Center. Hostesses were Mrs. Albert Merkle, Mrs. L. M. Kraft, Mrs. John McAndrew and Mrs. Paul Malloy. An award for high score in bridge was won by Mrs. Mary C. Goss and in euchre the award was won by Mrs. Thomas Powers. A lunch was served following the cards. The members will meet for sewing and a picnic supper in two weeks.

120-mile battle line, with Nazi infantry units supported by only 10 to 15 tanks instead of mass mechanized forces.

Kerch Battle Continues

"Battles continue on the eastern part of Kerch peninsula," a Soviet mid-day communique said, again countering official Berlin claims that German troops had overrun the eastern Crimea.

British military quarters said German counter blows on the Izyum-Barvenkova sector, 80 miles below Kharkov, had bitten a chunk out of the southern flank of the Soviet drive, but declared there were no indications that the bite was increased.

These quarters said heavy fighting continued along the whole line, from Krasnograd, 60 miles southwest of Kharkov, to Volchansk, 30 miles northeast of the big Ukraine steel city and communications hub.

Russian headquarters did not identify the "populated place" in which the Red armies penetrated.

As the Soviet campaign raged into its twelfth month, thousands of American troops training in northern Ireland were told by Gen. Sir Alan Brooke, Britain's imperial general staff chief, that their chance to fight "no doubt will come soon."

"We shall expect great things from the Americans when an opportunity is given them," Sir Alan said after a tour inspecting United States soldiers who have been toughening up in maneuvers since January.

He told correspondents he had a "high opinion" of the tanks and guns the Americans brought with them overseas.

PRICE CEILING TO BE EXPLAINED SATURDAY

Speakers' Institute To Be in Charge of O. W. U. Man.

Final arrangements were being made today for the price ceiling speakers' institute which is to be conducted Saturday afternoon in the hall over Grant's store on West Center street.

Mrs. Samuel G. Rosenberg, who is chairman of the local consumers' interest committee, said the institute will start at 2 p. m. tomorrow and will be conducted by Professor Gilbert H. Barnes of the Ohio Wesleyan university. Prof. Barnes has been appointed by the Cleveland district office of the OPA to conduct such regional lectures.

It is expected about 25 representatives from various professional, civic and business groups in Marion will attend the meeting. The purpose of the institute, Mrs. Rosenberg explained, is to educate the representatives in the price ceiling program so that they can, if called upon, outline the plan in detail to others in the community.

UNFAIR TO LOVE

CHAPTER NINE

Picnic For Joe

WHEN Joe Neely awoke late the next morning, his first thought was of Kathleen. And it was an angry thought.

The idea of making such an obvious play for two men as she had made for Fred DeMille and Paul Pennell! She ought to be spanked like a spoiled small brat. It would serve her right if her Uncle Frank did spank her. As a matter of fact, he would like to spank her himself.

He arose, stepped out of his pajamas, and got under the shower. But he did not sing, as was his habit. He didn't feel like singing. He felt more like swearing. He felt more like making another pie-card and going out to picket the Vaughan residence as he had done on that other morning.

It would show Kathleen that he still meant business. Only he would look sort of silly to the Linville churchgoers. And he would probably embarrass himself more than he would embarrass Kathleen. Besides, he might also embarrass Mr. Frank, and he didn't want to do that. He was fond of Kathleen's uncle, and he wanted to remain in the man's good favor.

Just then the telephone bell rang. He went to answer it, dripping water across the carpet. Maybe it was Kathleen calling to say she was sorry about last night. Maybe she was calling to ask him to drive his little car out to the house and take her for a long ride into the country.

"Hello" he said.

"Good morning!" said a feminine voice. "I hope I didn't call too early."

"Oh, no," Joe said. "Who is this?"

"Ruby Howard."

"Oh!" Joe almost dropped the telephone.

"What's the matter? You sound odd."

"Nothing's the matter. Just surprised and pleased. After all, it is early for an actress to be up."

"It's too beautiful a morning to lie in bed," said Ruby. "Besides, I've been doing a lot of thinking about your play—and the second act you say you insist we rite. I couldn't wait any longer to urge you to get it ready for reading."

Stagestruck Boy

"I got the manuscript out of my trunk when I got home last night" Joe confessed. "I thought I might work on it today. Only it is too swell a day to stay inside. How about taking a ride with me?"

"I'd love it!" Ruby said.

"We can discuss the play and see the country at the same time."

"I think that would be delightful!" Ruby exclaimed. "I tell you what—let's have a picnic! I'll ask the hotel people to fix a lunch, and——"

"I'll get the lunch," Joe cut in. "I haven't been on a picnic in ages."

"No, the lunch is my treat," Ruby insisted. "You supply the car—and the play."

"What time shall I call for you?"

"I can be ready by noon. That all right with you?"

"You bet!" said Joe. "Don't you have to rehearse or anything today?"

"No, thank heavens!" Ruby answered. "I'm letter-perfect in my role—and besides, its an old play, anyway."

"Fine! That means we won't have to hurry back."

"I can stay out as long as you can put up with me."

"That," said Joe gallantly, "means a long, long time."

"Nice boy," Ruby said softly.

"Thanks," said Joe. "You're pretty nice yourself. I'll call for you at noon—promptly on the dot. Okay?"

"Okay."

Joe hung up his receiver and stood thinking, all unmindful of his wetness. "Imagine her calling me up like that!" He grinned. Maybe he had been too hard on the actor-folks, as Kathleen had said he was. Maybe it wasn't going to be a bad summer after all. Then he went back to the bathroom. This time he did sing as he got under the shower. His play meant a lot to him, although he was willing to admit that it might not amount to a hill of beans. Besides, he had no illusions about such matters as getting a play produced.

He dried himself and glanced at his watch. Then when he was dressed, wearing his tan gabardine slacks and the dark brown sport jacket that went with them, he found that he still had nearly an hour before time to call for Miss Howard.

He picked up the play manuscript which he had laid upon his desk the night before. He began to go over it. It sounded terribly amateurish in spots, he thought—and the thought depressed him. However there was a possibility that ideas would come to him thick and fast, as he talked with the actress—got her point of view.

She could give him a lot of pointers about exits and entrances. And those were the things that bothered him most; the business of getting his characters on and off the stage in a perfectly natural way.

He looked at his watch once more.

It was ten minutes to twelve. He would have time to get his car out of the garage behind the house and drive down to the Linville Inn. He hurried to the mirror, looked at himself critically, gave his hair another combing, and re-adjusted his maroon colored tie.

Tie done, he ran down the steps and around the house.

Then, just before he brought his car to a standstill in front of the Inn, Joe thought once more of Kathleen. And the thought saddened him. It was something Kathleen had said to him after hearing him read the play. "Oh, Joe," she had exclaimed, "wouldn't it be wonderful if I could play the part of that girl!" Joe shook his head slowly at the memory of those words. "Poor little stage-struck Kathleen!" he said under his breath.

He walked into the Inn, and up to the desk. There he requested the clerk to tell Miss Howard that Mr. Neely was waiting downstairs.

An hour or so after Joe and Ruby had driven away from the Inn, picnic bound, Kathleen and Fred DeMille were heading for a farm some ten miles from town.

"There's an old lady out there," Kathleen was saying, "who remembers the Civil war. She moved up here from Virginia and brought a lot of fine old furniture with her."

"Then we ought to find all we need without going any further," said Fred. "I want an ancient mahogany highboy for a dining room set, and several pieces for the living room. And any odds and ends that I can find that will lend a pre-war atmosphere."

"Like samplers and old paintings?" Kathleen asked.

"Yes—and some china."

"I can suply things like that."

"Good. There's no money in it, however. Only a couple of tickets to the show."

"I don't want any money. I never gave it a thought."

"That's swell. But what about the old lady? She may not want to see the show."

Kathleen laughed. "You don't know Miss Camilla," she said. "She's way up in the eighties, but she loves going places. She'll get a kick out of seeing you folks act."

"But how will she get into town?"

"On the bus," Kathleen retorted. "It passes only a short way from the house."

"It looks," said Fred, "as though everything was going to work out perfectly. I'm sorry we can't pay cash rent for any furniture you people let us use—but it can't be done. Summer theaters never have much profit. They usually run on a shoestring."

The Stars Say—

For Saturday, May 23

ALTHOUGH ASTUTENESS, purely on the say or well-organized strategy may be implements of last resort, to be called upon when regular or normal tactics seem to prove futile, on the whole it may be a difficult day for putting over important projects, either of a personal or business nature. There may be all sorts of conflicts, antagonisms and treacheries, with sudden reversals as well as deep-seated source of defeat.

Those whose birthday it is may be ready for a year in which they may have to draw on their hidden resources, exceptional talents or possibilities for strategy, intrigue and the security of public confidence or popularity, as such may be needful to combat antagonisms, compose difficulties and survive sudden as well as secret blows or reverses. Shrewdness, tact as well as emotional balance and sound physical and mental condition may ultimately win over deceit, confusion and chaos.

A child born on this day should have the benefit of early direction and safeguarding of its emotional, mental and physical solidarity in order to meet with fortitude sudden reversals or blows in life.

Program Schedule

... gram will open with ... ordings of "Anchors ... Marine Hymn and ... The Star Spangled Banner." The ... tao bell ceremony will be conducted by Charles F. Silcer, local navy recruiting officer. The Silvertone quartet will sing "Navy Hymn," by Coleman. The invocation and a brief talk will be given by Rev. Garrison Roebuck of the First United Brethren church, chairman of the Navy club. The welcome and Mr. Sherman's talk will be preceded by a number by the Supertone quartet, "Battle Hymn," "Keep On the Firing Line" and "Anchors Aweigh." The exercises will close with the dropping of a floral anchor into the lake from a plane piloted by A. A. Freeman, lieutenant of a naval air base.

Invitations have been sent to more than 150 parents of boys from this community who are serving in the U. S. navy the club announced. Because of incomplete files some may have been overlooked Mr. Watt said today and the club asks that these persons join in the exercises by bringing their sons.

Arrangements are in charge of a committee composed of Harry L. Lang, commander of the Marion Naval club; Omer Gressley, club vice commandant and A. F. Peoples, whose son Walter is a Peoples is serving as a lieutenant in the navy.

WPB Acts To Limit Stocks of Merchants

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 22 —The war production board announced last night that it would issue regulations soon to prevent merchants from amassing extra large stocks of goods

Although details were not decided on, one plan was to prohibit any merchant from having more dollars worth of stock this year than he had last year

C. I. C. CLASS MEETS

Mr. and Mrs. Harold F Smith were program chairmen and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tower were menu chairman for the covered dish supper meeting of the C. I. C. class Tuesday night in Trinity Baptist church Prosecuting Attorney James E Reed talked on the duties of his office and answered questions. Mrs Cecil Davis played two piano selections.

you any more but here's something to remind you of us

Mr. Jones, unable to speak for a moment, said, "I'm speechless I can't express my feelings to each of you but I have enjoyed you so much—Godspeed to you graduates and patience be to you who remain." When he returned to the stage he showed the audience the gift a leather brief case.

As a means of expressing thanks to the accompanist for her work in the public schools over a period of years, Miss Barbara Brethaupt, a senior, was given a choice of her own on the program

Piano Number

Miss Brethaupt played without music Tschaikowsky's beautiful "Concerto in B Flat Minor," displaying a supple command of the keyboard that demonstrates outstanding technique The second piano orchestration was played by Mrs. John F Lacey. Miss Brethaupt wore a white taffeta formal and Mrs Lacey was in a black formal

Instantaneous applause greeted the robed choir when the curtains parted at the opening of the concert and another burst welcomed Mr. Jones, in formal dress

Carefully selected and trained in the most difficult of all singing—without accompaniment—the choir gave a remarkable display of precision training Never for a moment did the eyes of the young people stray from the unobstrusive commands of the director's hands The clear enunciation was another mark of Mr Jones' demands for perfection from his a cappella group

In opening the program the audience joined the choir in singing the national anthem

Selections On Program

The first part was made up of religious selections, "Prayer of Thanksgiving," Netherlands, 'Go Not Far From Me, O God," Zingarelli, 'For the Lord Is a Mighty God,' Mendelssohn, Prayer," Becker, and "Open Our Eyes,' MacFarlane.

Mrs Brethaupt played accompaniments for the first, second, fourth and fifth numbers The MacFarlane composition probably displayed best the choir's fine toneshading.

The second group of five selections was made up of 'The Sledge Bells," Roberton, 'Venetian Love Song,' Nevin, "Annie Laurie," 'Smoke Gets in Your Eyes' Kern, and "Tzadi Nuka," by Wihtol The last number was fun for both the choir and the audience, judging from reactions It was a novelty number with a steady "boomp' calling for much cheek-puffing from the bass section.

Compositions with a religious theme were chosen for all but one of the third and last group, composed of "I'm Happy Anna," arranged by Sergo, and "Upon a Bed of Roses," "At Heavens Gates" and "Invitation to the Harvest Meet," all by Wihtol

One of the most impressive numbers on the program was the encore selection, "My God and I," sung against a background of humming that showed to perfection the tone control of the choir Incidental solos were sung by Eleanor Marriott, alto, Arloua Luellen, first soprano, and Robert Whitcum, baritone Miss Marriott and Whitcum are members of the senior class

For more than 30 seniors it was one of their last public appearances with the choir. In this group are the following:

First sopranos, Virginia Mountz, Mary Queen, Kathryn Search and Virginia Weitz, second sopranos, Dorothy Baldauf, Martha Hord, Betty Ruff Eileen Roberts, Barbara Smith, Virginia Taylor, Ruth Wise [illegible] Peggy Gritzer, alias, Ruth Bond, Eileen Christ, Mildred Coon, Ruth Davis, Jean Drake, Doris Freeman, Barbara Goodrich, Joyce McClellan, Eleanor Mattill, Jane Wolfe and Ruth Schiffert; basses Ross Cockerell, Bill Glimpse, Cliff Hoch and John Rice, baritones, Howard Neal, Allan Sears and Robert Whitcum; tenors, Bill Holloway, James Gilmore, Harold Mosser, Dyd Rootman and Harold Stinchcomb

Ohio Big League Teams Lose; Tribe Set for First Home Game at Nigh

Yanks Win Heartbreaker from White Sox; Senators Beat Browns.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 22—The Browns have had one chance to get their owl eyes in shape and the Indians have not—but on the other hand St. Louis hasn't won a daylight game from the Tribe this season in five attempt

That's the way things stand as they prepare to inaugurate the local night baseball season tonight in the Stadium. The Indians are sending in their best pitcher, Jim Bagby. John Niggeling will oppose him.

Cleveland was glad enough to get rid of the Boston Red Sox yesterday, for Boston climbed into third place with an 8 to 2 win, its fourth triumph over the Tribe in four games. Boston swept a three-game series just after the Indians had run an early string of victories to 13.

Mel Harder was knocked out in the third inning for his third loss of the year when the visitors put on a five-run spree which sewed up the game. The Red Sox got to Harder, Joe Krakauskas and Vernon Kennedy for 14 hits.

Ted Williams' homer was the only extra base hit of the 14 safeties, his ninth round trip of the season. Coming in the fourth inning with Lou Finney aboard, it gave him four run batted in for the game. He had singled with the bases full in the third and made a single which helped score Boston's one run in the first.

Tex Hughson, a young right-hander, held the Indians to seven hits, Roy Weatherly clamming two of them with a double and triple.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 22 — The New York Yankees seem to have clinched pennant by breaking the Cubs' and Reds' hearts as well as the necks of their rivals.

Yesterday the Chicago White Sox sent out to the mound a chunky southpaw named Ed Smith, who hadn't won a game this year and had been beaten five times. Smith pitched well behind the world champions to one run, and still they beat him. The 1-0 score was determined in the fourth inning when Smith walked Buddy Rosar with the bases loaded.

Sid Hudson pitched six-hit ball to lead the Washington Senators to a 5-2 verdict over the St. Louis Browns although his teammates almost sabotaged the job with six errors.

Phil Marchildon, looming as one of this season's finest flingers, held the Detroit Tigers to six hits as the Philadelphia Athletics hammered three pitchers for 17 blows and an 11-3 triumph that lifted the A's into fifth place. It was Marchildon's sixth win.

Only one game in the National league escaped the weather and in this the Philadelphia Phils nosed out the Cincinnati Reds 3-2 as Si Johnson bested Paul Derringer in a hurling duel.

Eddie Joost hit a homer for the Reds, but nobody hit anything in the ninth after the Reds loaded the bases with one out. So the Phils kept the game.

KAY TO HURL STATE TOURNAMENT OPENER

Harding Nine Slated To Meet Middletown Today.

Marion Harding High school was to clash with Middletown High school at 9 a. m. today in first rounds of state championship baseball games at Ohio State university. Don Kay was slated to hurl for the local nine, while LeRoy Harvey was set for duty behind the plate.

If the Harding team succeeded in besting the Middletown youths, the Marion youths were scheduled to meet the winner of the Louisville-Greenfield game at 3 p. m.

Charles Bowers, who pitched a one hit victory over Toledo Libby in the sectional tournament at Findlay Tuesday, was scheduled to twirl for the Presidents, provided they went into the second contest this afternoon. Bowers was to play short stop in the first game, while Harvey was assigned to duty behind the plate in both games.

This season was the first in which the Marion team succeeded in getting so far as the state championship games. While opening rounds were set to be played today, finals will be run off tomorrow.

Other top ranking high school teams in track, baseball, golf and tennis were to compete today. Cleveland East Tech and Cleveland Heights, 1940 winner, tied for the class "A" track-field title last year. Xenia Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans Home held the class "B" crown.

New champions are certain for both divisions in baseball, since neither of last season's winners, Cincinnati and Beaver Creek qualified. Upper Arlington was tops in golf last year and its ace, Pete Sohl, took individual honors.

Other class "A" games to be played today were Tiltonville vs Cleveland Holy Name and Cincinnati Western Hills vs Columbus North. Both these contests were set for 11 a. m. today, the winners to vie for honors in the finals Saturday at 3 p. m.

Class "B" games to be played were: Reading vs Catawba, The Plains vs Vaughnsville, Yorkville vs Chardon and Columbus St. Charles vs. Webster Township.

Denny Shute Favors Nelson To Win P.G.A.

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, May 22 — Denny Shute, twice winner of the PGA championship, picks another former champion, Byron Nelson, to capture the 1942 crown at the Absecon, N. J., Seaview course next week—but he isn't counting himself out of the running.

Shute, who was playing an exhibition match here as a warm-up for the PGA test, feels that Nelson is easily the standout in the field. The Texan, now playing out of Toledo, O., won the crown in 1940 and was runner-up to Vic Ghezzi last year.

Walter J. [illegible] the Holabird and Root [illegible] and Woody Walters [illegible] mound-man and [illegible] for the S. W. O. C. team turned in [illegible] performances to share top mound honors for the opening night.

Walters shutout the General Excavator team [illegible] teammates pounded out nine safeties and seven runs. A quartet of errors allowed the Scioto Ordnance Plant Nomads to score [illegible] despite Ramsey's strong-arm pitching.

The winners scored one run in each of the first four innings and one more in the sixth to account for its five-run total. The losers plated their entire three total in the opening stanza, but failed to score in subsequent innings.

A four-run rally in the third inning, followed by two in the fourth and another in the sixth paved the way for S. W. O. C.'s 7-0 shutout victory over the Excavators.

Universal Cooler and Osgood engaged in the night's high scoring festival. Universal Cooler finally won 12-1 although both teams got eight hits. The Osgood team threatened a record for number of errors in one game in muffing 10 chances. Everly was the winning pitcher and Bailey was charged with the loss.

Fowble limited the Humber team to one run but allowed six hits as his Commercial Steel cohorts pounded out a 6-1 decision. Commercial Steel had only five hits.

Erie Nine Advances In Mid-Atlantic Standings

By The Associated Press

ZANESVILLE, O., May 22 — The Erie Sailors are beginning to live up to pre-season touting when listed them as the team to beat in the Mid-Atlantic league.

Five days after season opened Erie moved from the cellar spot to the cellar, where it remained until three days ago. Successive victories have advanced the Sailors to No. 4 position in the league, with six wins and eight defeats.

The team continued to hit its stride last night in downing Zanesville 2 to 1 to move ahead of Dayton in the standings.

The contest was the only game played last night.

Venerable finally was caught off guard and was dropped with a body press by Jones. When Angelo persisted in booting Kalmikoff from the ring and not allowing him to climb back in, Promoter-Referee Les Fishbaugh awarded the third and deciding fall to the duke-skinned Jones and Kalmikoff.

On four different occasions Fishbaugh and the four participants were in free-for-all scraps. Nearly everyone was of the opinion that Les Fishbaugh that fared worse than any of the fighters.

Aged Gorilla Pogi, the Argentine, and Leo Jensen fought to a draw in the 30-minute preliminary with neither fighter able to score a fall.

PASTOR TO FIGHT MAURIELLO TONIGHT

May Seek Third Crack at Joe Louis.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 22 — Youd think a fellow who came back alive from 21 rounds with Joe Louis wouldn't try to press lady luck again—but Robert Pastor is still asking for more.

Tonight in Madison Square Garden, he's taking on tough Tami Mauriello at 10 p. m. to prove that he's ready, willing and able to get a third chance at the Brown Bomber.

Some 12,000 of the faithful are expected to turn out to see the match.

The gambling guys along 49th street are offering up to 7 to 1 against Mauriello's chances, despite his string of six straight knockouts in his most recent outings.

A year ago, Mauriello was fighting for the middleweight title. Then he failed twice to take the light-heavyweight bauble from Gus Lesnevich. He's a big boy now, scaling about 180 pounds, and his chief hope seems to lie in an ability to make the most of Pastor's habit of getting tagged in the early rounds of most fights.

FIGHT POSTPONED

WASHINGTON, May 22—Weather scored last night but Lou Nova and Lee Savold will meet in their heavyweight navy relief fight tonight, Promoter Mike Jacobs said.

Nova, who holds a 13-pound weight advantage over the Des Moines, Iowa, fighter, said he was confident of a quick knockout.

Class Hears Talks By Mountain Missionary

The Emma Berger Bible class of Calvary Evangelical church met at the home of Mrs. R. D. Reamsnyder of 131 South Grand avenue Thursday night.

Mrs. Nile Mell led devotions and Miss Esther Van Bockern, a Kentucky mountain missionary worker, spoke. A Mother's day story was read by Miss Doris Brady.

Visitors were Miss Von Bockern, Mrs. E. H. Hardin, Mrs. Ruel Sutherland and Mrs. Robert Clark. The assistant hostesses were Mrs. Guy Coleman, Mrs. Mell, Mrs. Edna Sutherland, Mrs. W. T. Wittred, Mrs. Stewart McNew, Mrs. Charles Price and Mrs. William Martin.

Church History Given at Meeting of Circle

Miss Emma Thompson was assisted by her sister, Dr. Dessie Thompson of Columbus, when she entertained Circle No. 3 of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon at her home on West Center street. Miss Sarah Cooper was a guest. For roll call the members gave Bible verses and Mrs. E. T. Kenan conducted devotions. Miss Emma Thompson gave a talk on the history of the Presbyterian church and also a sketch of the history of the first Presbyterian church. Plans were made for a picnic meeting in June at the home of Mrs. James Walsh of Delaware avenue. Refreshments were served. The meeting marked the close of the season.

CHURCH CLUB MEETS

A garden party in June was discussed by the Silver Tea club of St. Paul's Episcopal church at a meeting last night with Mrs. J. A. Burgin of 604 Windsor street. Mrs. William Maish was co-hostess. Mrs. Clarence L. Rutherford and Mrs. Fanny Benson entertained with a group of vocal and piano selections, after which the evening was spent playing bridge. Miss Dorothy Haynes won honors for high score.

Vinton County Hard Hit As War Draws Manpower

War is hitting closer to home for every citizen. What has been the reaction? For the answer, The Associated Press made a cross-country survey to see how the average citizen has been affected, what he is doing in the war effort. This is the first of a series of five articles on the subject.

By JOHN L. WEBER
Written for The Associated Press

McArthur, O., May 22—The war is making one of Ohio's smallest and poorest counties. Vinton county with a population of 12,000 even smaller and poorer.

With no defense industry in the county, many men who are not in the armed services have gone to Dayton, Columbus, Cleveland, and Ravenna to work. The county draft board, with few occupational deferments, has been forced to send older and married men to fill heavy quotas. Businessmen and merchants face actual bankruptcy in many cases because customers are either away or in the armed forces.

The only two plants in the county are engaged in secondary defense work. One is making explosives for use in mining, while the other recently completed a contract to furnish brick for a Detroit plane plant. Neither plant is working at full capacity.

Feel McArthur Safe

The defense organization in Vinton county is getting underway. A salvage campaign has been successful, but the general opinion is that enemy bombers aren't likely to come over McArthur.

The county is doing its part in the war effort. Already over $180,000 in war bonds and stamps have been sold, and the May quota is an easy $6,300. Local coal mines are still working steadily to furnish coal for industry. Farmers are backing heavily the "food-for-freedom" program, and much timber is being taken from nearby forests.

Within a month or so, the county expects to have as many men under arms as it provided in the World war.

Perhaps a third of the residents of the county are indirectly engaged in the war effort, farmers, miners, sawyers, and employes of the two local plants, while others are working in war jobs outside the county.

In rural communities, with few means of transportation other than the auto, tire-rationing is just beginning to be felt.

There is little activity in the county as a whole which tends to take the minds of residents off war. War is discussed everywhere, on McArthur street corners when the farmers gather Saturday nights, in soft drink bars, beauty parlors . . . everywhere people gather, war is usually the topic of conversation.

Few families are not represented by some relative or close friend in the armed forces, and because of this, the county is acutely "slacker conscious," something not yet prevalent in larger Ohio communities. For a small county, many men are in the navy. Two navy enlisted men have already been killed in the war and one is a prisoner of the Japs.

Patriotism also is scant. Many older men, not likely to be called by the draft, and men with dependents are trying to get into the armed services as specialists.

For the first time in a decade, vacant houses are available in McArthur, with war workers and drafted men moving out. Farm labor is scarce, and scarcer, and farms are being advertised for sale or rent.

GIANT ORE CARRIER LAUNCHED AT LORAIN

By The Associated Press

LORAIN, O., May 22 — A freighter capable of bringing down the Great Lakes in one trip enough iron ore to furnish steel for 2,000 airplanes was launched here today as Ohio's contribution to national maritime day.

The ore freighter Irving S. Olds slid into the water at the local yards of the American Ship Building Co. A companion vessel, the A. H. Ferbert, was also launched today at the River Rouge, Mich., yards of the Great Lakes Engineering Works.

Each vessel has a maximum capacity of 18,600 gross tons of iron ore at a 24-foot draft. They are the last of five ore giants under construction for Pittsburgh Steamship Co., a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corp.

The vessels have a length of 639½ feet, breadth of 67 feet and depth of 35 feet.

CLASS VOTES GIFT

The sum of $100 was voted to the First Evangelical and Reformed church building fund by the Loyal Daughters class at a meeting yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Rose Seiter of West Church street. Mrs. May Rinnert conducted devotions and Mrs. Grace Hoffman presided for the business session. Mrs. Leona House, in charge of the program, read "The Blue Flowers," by Van Dyke. A quiz contest preceded refreshments.

WPB WILL MODIFY LUMBER FREEZING

Will Permit Projects Vitally Needed for Defense.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 22 — The war production board announced today it would modify its orders freezing sale of construction lumber and would permit deliveries to such defense housing projects as are deemed "vitally needed."

The need of each project applying for relief will be determined by WPB and the housing agencies concerned.

Under terms of the 60-day freeze order issued last week, construction lumber could be delivered by the mills only to the army, navy, or maritime commission. As a result, defense housing in at least 15 cities has been halted and scores of projects elsewhere are coming to a standstill as supplies in retail lumber yards become exhausted.

James S. Knowlson, director of WPB industry operations, said a clause in the freeze order would be invoked permitting lumber producers to make deliveries on specific WPB authorization. Mechanics of the relief plan will not be worked out for another day or two.

Officials pointed out that the army has said that it would need all of the construction lumber produced in the next 60 days for cantonments and other military work, and the prospects were that WPB thus would be forced to trim the housing program very sharply.

POLITICS CHARGED IN LIBRARY ROW

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 22.—Controversy over the resignation of State Librarian Paul A. T. Noon developed today into a clash between Gov. Bricker and two members of the Ohio library board.

After the board declined to meet with the governor yesterday and recessed until Wednesday without reaching a decision on the resignation, Bricker commented that "a couple of people on the board have been playing politics ever since I have been in here."

The board rejected Noon's request to withdraw the resignation.

Joseph E. Hurst (D) of New Philadelphia, a member, said the matter could not be settled in the governor's office because the board alone had the right to hire and fire the state librarian. The other Democratic member is Nelle Dunlap of Hillsboro.

Bricker said the board had no alternative but to accept the resignation.

"Charges are not at stake," he asserted. "He has resigned and I've asked the board to pick a successor."

State Education Director Kenneth C. Ray, board chairman, reported that the librarian submitted his resignation Feb. 10 after an investigation of Noon's traveling expenses by the state finance director.

Ray said approximately $700 was allotted annually for travel and that the remainder of $2,611 Noon averaged each year was drawn from the fund set aside for state aid for local libraries.

Noon declared the practice was not questioned in the past.

Hurst commented that "Ray was presumptuous in asking for Noon's resignation," dated as effective June 1. Noon was appointed during the administration of former Gov. George White.

DANGEROUS CRIMINAL FLEES OHIO HOSPITAL

Kidnap-Killer Escapes from Cell at Dayton.

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., May 22 — Termed a dangerous criminal, self-confessed kidnap-killer George Colley, 22, was on hands and knees at barely 5:30 after escaping from the Dayton state hospital.

Awaking observers to his departure, Colley fled down the path, last night, Dr. F. C. Hopper, superintendent of the hospital, broke a key on the door of his bedroom cell.

Indicted for first degree murder in the 1937 holdup slaying of Harry Mills, Colley also was charged with kidnaping and attempted extortion.

The fugitive was ruled insane and committed to the New York state hospital after a 1938 observation meeting in that city. He was a West Virginian. Colley was transferred to the West Virginia state hospital. After he was subsequently declared [illegible]

Chicago Youth Faces Life Term in Pen

CHICAGO, May 22—A criminal court jury convicted Clarence McDonald, 17, today and fixed his punishment at life imprisonment for the movie theater slaying of his high school sweetheart, Dorothy Brez, also 17.

A verdict carrying life imprisonment was one of two choices for the jurors who in a one-day trial heard the defense contend that dapper McDonald was insane when he shot his girl friend to death as he kissed her in a darkened theater lobby.

In a confession the boy said he had shot her because he feared she would leave him and "if I couldn't I'd let some one else to have her."

SEWER WORKERS HURT

William Wike, J. Fies and A. D. Berry, employes for subcontractors working on the sewer project connecting the Scioto Ordnance Plant with the Marion city sewage system, were injured Tuesday in a cave-in of a trench five and one-half feet deep. All were taken to City hospital. Wike was treated for a fractured [illegible] his home and the others for slight injuries. All have been released.

PRISONER CONVICTED AFTER FATAL SHOT

By The Associated Press
HARLAN, Ky., May 22—Manzo Shepherd, 24, was shot fatally during the drama-packed climax of a murder trial here late yesterday in which he was found guilty of slaying a taxicab driver May 5.

Shepherd was pronounced dead at a hospital while a circuit court jury fixed his punishment at death in the electric chair for the killing of Joe Christian.

Jack Heaton, 28-year-old Louallen, Ky., coal miner, a nephew of Christian, surrendered to officers after Shepherd was shot in the courtroom. Sheriff Clint Bell said. No charge was placed against him immediately.

The pistol shot was fired a few moments after attorneys completed arguments to the jury. Shepherd was seated with his attorney at the defense table.

Circuit Judge James S. Pangle told the jury that the wounded man was alive when carried from the courtroom and directed that the case be taken under consideration.

The verdict was returned five minutes later. Shepherd was

SELLING HITS WHEAT AFTER EARLY GAINS

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, May 22—After registering gains of almost a cent early in the day, the wheat market's recovery was nipped by a renewal of selling that lowered prices as much as 1⅝ cents from the highs at times.

Late weakness followed exhaustion of buying force built up as a result of yesterday's break which carried wheat to lows since last November. Today's lows equaled or exceeded those established Thursday. Failure of flour demand to revive was a weakening factor.

YOUR HEALTH

Lip Diseases

WE ALL SEE our lips every day—at least I presume we all do. I have heard that thousands of people in the United States don't use a toothbrush daily, but I have yet to hear of a single inhabitant of the North American continent who doesn't look into a mirror pretty regularly. In spite of this, a great many diseased conditions of the lips—ulcers and fissures—are allowed to drag on and no attention is paid to them. Sometimes they result in quite serious conditions.

The commonest change that occurs in the lips is the fever blister. So far as I know, the world is divided into two classes of people—the ones who want to know how to cure a fever blister and the ones who have a perfectly certain cure. The only suspicious thing about the perfectly certain cures is that no two of them are alike, so I have always hesitated to recommend anything to my readers.

Since fever blisters pass away in nearly every instance, the medical profession doesn't pay much attention to them. The only danger is that a more serious condition will be shrugged off by saying, "Oh, it's only a fever blister."

I say the fever blister almost always passes away. Very infrequently there is left a chronic ulcer or a little, hard horn of skin at the site of the fever blister. These may drag on for years and should not be allowed to do so because they are potential cancers.

In fact, any change in the skin of the lips which is at all chronic is potentially cancerous. There is a condition known as keratosis that occurs in people whose occupations expose them to the wind and sun. There is a thickening of the skin of the lip, which in itself does no harm, and may last for years before finally it turns into a cancer. There is nothing to be done for the keratosis, but when it begins to break down and form a weeping ulcer or sore or a fissure that doesn't heal, it should be removed.

Another condition of the lips is known as leukoplakia. This occurs mostly after middle age and shows up as a white, silvery patch which looks as if it could be rubbed off, but is extremely deceptive in this respect. Like the keratosis, it may go on for years doing no harm, and then begin to turn into cancer.

Of course, the lip is one of the most frequent sites of superficial cancer. Besides the cancers that are secondary to the precancerous conditions we have described above, such as indolent ulmer, horn keratosis and leukoplakia, a cancer may appear on the lip spontaneously. There are two kinds; one in the form of a wart and one in the form of an ulcer. They are more frequent in middle-aged persons and hardly ever occur before the age of sixty.

It is an astonishing thing, in view of the campaign against cancer which stresses the fact that any lump or ulceration of the skin should be examined by a physician and also stresses the fact that internal examination should be made regularly after the age of forty, that cancer of the lip should be so frequently neglected, and should show one of the highest death rates of any form of cancer.

There, as I said at the beginning, we have a part of the body that we look at every day and should know what changes are occurring, and still so many people neglect and put off these things until it is too late. The lesson is that the lips are particularly subject to serious degenerative changes and anything in the form of a lump or an ulceration or a break in the skin should have the benefit of medical advice.

Answer: It is not possible to dissolve either a large or a small gall stone.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

With Dr. Twitchell's Promise To Help, Madge Feels Sure She Has Thwarted Plot To Kill Her Father.

"DON'T WORRY another second, Mrs. Graham!" Dr. Twitchell said cheerily, in what I knew was his best "bedside manner," but which I also knew was the window dressing for his great efficiency. "I'll attend to everything."

"Will it be possible for you also to be there when we arrive?" I said. "Your surgical and medical services will be needed. Please tell my father that. He will understand."

"Yes, I will be on hand, and I will tell your father everything you have said. Do you know what time you will be here?"

I looked at my wrist watch, tried to strike a balance between the skill and speed proclivities of Joe and Bill, and the necessity of guarding old Professor Diswell and the wounded gangsters from too much jolting, then gave him my answer.

"Somewhere between two and three hours from now, barring accidents, I told him.

Twitchell Gives His Promise

"I understand," he said. "I guarantee that your father and I will be ready for your arrival at two o'clock, and we will wait in readiness until you get there, no matter how long it is."

"Thank you so much," I said fervently. "And, now I must go. Good-bye."

"Good-bye," he returned. Then pulling back the television and coming around the piled boxes into the store, I found only Mr. Branchman there, hastily putting together sandwiches from his cabinet of delicatessen meals.

"My father is holding the fort outside," he explained, "but Gus said that I was to put up sandwiches, boxes of crackers and cookies, and small bottles of soft drinks. I had to come in, but I can assure you that I heard nothing of your conversation; or if I did hear anything," he added naively, "I have forgotten it."

"I need no such assurance," I told him, smiling. "I know that you never would repeat anything you might have overheard."

Gus Always Thoughtful

"Thank you," he said earnestly. "Now would you mind asking Gus to come in and help me out with these?"

"I'll send him right in," I said. Going out I found faithful Gus standing on the porch of the store with the rider Branchman, delivered the storekeeper's message and added a commendation for Gus.

"That was very thoughtful of you, Gus," I said. "I could do with a sandwich myself."

"Well, we started early, and we won't get back till long after dinner time," he said, "and I knew you wouldn't want to stop anywhere on the road. So I thought it would be all right with you if I got the things."

"I'm very glad you went ahead on your own," I said. "But hurry the things as fast as you can."

"I'll be right out," he replied hurrying into the store.

I walked back to my father's car, carefully skirting that occupied by the gangsters whom he had made prisoners.

Gangster Plot Thwarted

I felt reasonably certain that I had thwarted the real plot against my father's life in which the malevolent gangster had tried to use me as an agent. But I also felt that I could not bear to look again into those murderous faces until I should receive the bolstering of my courage which my father's presence always gives me.

As I opened the door of our car I saw that Jack had succeeded in getting Professor Diswell to stretch himself out on the rear seat, and had covered him with the blankets I had indicated. The old man's eyes were closed. Instead of speaking, I beckoned Jack to the door.

"Are you all ready to start?" I whispered.

He nodded. "He'll stay asleep, I think," he said, "if the starting doesn't waken him."

"I think I can manage that," I said, "and Jack—"

"Yes," he said.

"We must not waken him by talking on the way down."

He looked at me with tragic eyes.

"There is but one subject on which I wish to talk," he said; "the news you gave me just before you left the car. You have said that must wait until we are without an audience, so you may be sure of my silence for the rest of the journey."
